Rogers $5 Richer Because Politics Bars Noble Ideas

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, April 17.—I received my five dollars back from Senator Borah that I sent him to clean up five Republicans. I even named the five that he was to clean up.

He wasn't able to raise the fund because people realized that it was a lost cause. You can't make the Republican party pure by more contributions because contributions are what got it where it is today.

This was a noble idea of Borah's but noble ideas don't oet anywhere.

Look at Dawes' original idea of cleaning up the senate. I doubt if he can remember even trying it now.

Noble ideas don't belong in politics.

Yours,

WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

One week from today is primary election day in New Castle and Lawrence county. State legislature members and delegates to the national convention are to be selected and while the campaign has not been very lively it is indicated that there will be a good sized vote cast.

Workmen are engaged in remodeling the banking quarters of the Lawrence Savings and Trust company, connecting the old bank building to the addition that has been in the course of construction during the past few months. With the seven story addition of some 55 offices added to the main building the Lawrence Savings and Trust company building will probably be the largest office building in Western Pennsylvania between Pittsburgh and Erie. The addition is nearing completion although the opening date has not been announced.

A communication received by Pa Newc this morning mentions the fact that this is the anniversary of the death of Benjamin Franklin. Franklin died on April 17, 1790, the letter says. The "Benjamin Franklin" organization is making a determined effort to have proper recognition and tribute paid to the memory of this great American of years past.

Landscape gardeners are busy on the large lawn surrounding the Scottish Rite Cathedral carrying to completion the work that was started last summer. This sloping lawn surrounding the Cathedral is going to be a thing of beauty this summer it is evident.

Word reaches Pa Newc from the Martin Gantz school that the children of that school are engaged in a clean-up contest. Each pupil enrolled in some of the grades is making an effort to have his home premises neat and tidy and have all debris cleared away from the property. This is a truly commendable move at Martin Gantz. Every school should join.

There must have been some record crops on some of the farms in this vicinity last fall. Pa Newc saw a truck this morning loaded with farm produce that must have been stored last fall. It looked mighty good at that. There was quite a variety of vegetables included.

"Jackson Field" out along the Wilmington road where Kegarise's plane now makes its home is the object of great interest on the part of travelers along the highway. Many cars drive into the field while their occupants take a look at the big blue plane.

New Castle school musical organizations are getting ready to go to Grove City next month to compete for laurels in the district competition. New Castle's school musical organizations have a wonderful record in recent years and supporters here confidently expect that the local entries will be among those on top in the competition.

Announcement made yesterday that the First United Presbyterian church officials will meet Wednesday to take some steps towards erection of a new church building, is one received with gratification. Progress in the matter of replacing the church edi-

Lone Bandit On Chicago Train Stages Robbery

Passengers On Crack Northwestern Train Relieved Of Valuables

CHICAGO OFFICIALS TAKING UP SEARCH

Well Groomed Thug Stages Daring Hold-Up And Flees Into Darkness

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 17.—A lone bandit who last night held up the Overland Limited, crack train of the northwestern lines, and robbed a dozen passengers of cash and jewelry valued at several thousands of dollars, was the object of a city-wide search today.

The robbery was staged as the train, west-bound to San Francisco, pulled out of the downtown station. The bandit, well-groomed and dashing, had mingled with the station crowd and gained entrance to the train on pretext of bidding farewell to a friend.

As the train moved slowly out of the station, he stood on the observation car platform among a dozen passengers who were waving goodbye to friends. Scarcely had the train cleared the shed when the bandit quickly covered his face with a handkerchief and whipped out a revolver.

Escapes in Darkness

"All right folks, make it snappy," he commanded, "put up your hands and be nice, and nobody will get hurt."

After relieving the passengers—several of whom were women—of their wallets and purses, and snatching whatever of value was handy, he pulled the emergency air cord, halting the train as it neared a suburban station. He then leaped from the car and disappeared in the darkness.

Prominent among those robbed were W. H. Crocker, president of the Crocker National Bank of San Francisco, and his daughter, Helen. The latter saved her jewelry, including several valuable diamonds, by hiding it in her clothing.

Derby Runners Dodging Autos

Several Have Narrow Escapes From Serious Injury At Tulsa

DILKS IS MAKING FASTER TIME NOW

By LELAND C. LEWIS
I. N. S. Special Correspondent.

TULSA, Okla., April 17.—C. C. ("Cross Country") Pyle's bunion derbyists continued to play the role of artful dodgers as they moved on to their 45th control at Chelsea, 42 miles out of Tulsa, today. Recalling the serious injury of several runners and walkers at the hands of careless motorists, and the narrow escapes of others with the ever-increasing traffic, the transcontinental pedestrians divided their attention between the daily trek and alertness to prevent mishaps.

Gavuzzi Leads.

Peter Gavuzzi, Southampton, England, held the lead in the race this morning with an elapsed time of 270:41:05 for the 1,619 miles from Los Angeles to Tulsa. One hour, six minutes and 24 seconds behind him was Andrew Payne, youthful Oklahoman, and second in the race.

Olli Wanttinen, New York diminutive Finn, who suffered a blistered toe Sunday, came in 18th on the 41.7 mile lap from Bristow in 7:09:30. The delay dropped Wanttinen from fifth to ninth place, but he appeared little worried as his elapsed time is but 315:43:46.

Earl Dilks of New Castle, Pa., finished yesterday in 8:41 flat for an elapsed total of 399:44:57.

Former Alien Property Custodian Testifies Before Senate Probers

Proves Disappointment As Witness To Members Of Probing Board

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Col. Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, denied before the senate public lands committee today that he knew anything of the Continental Trading company's $3,080,000 Liberty bond "slush fund".

Miller, now under prison sentence for conspiracy to defraud the government in the American Metals case, proved a disappointing witness to the committee. He knew nothing of the bonds said to have passed between Will H. Hays and Harry F. Sinclair.

"Were you a dinner guest at the White House with President Coolidge in the late part of 1923?" Miller was asked.

"I have no recollection of it," he replied.

Not at White House.

Elliott-Blair Steel Plant Works At Full Capacity; Volume Of Orders Large

"We are enjoying the best business in our history," said Noah W. Elliott, president and treasurer of the local Elliott-Blair Steel Company, manufacturers of cold rolled steel, to a News man today.

Orders are unusually heavy and our plant is working at full capacity, with every possible man employed," continued Mr. Elliott. "Present indications in our line of business are good, although it is true that prices are lower and that the margin of profit on the finished product is smaller. We are working two full turns and the men are getting in extra time, by reason of the fact that it has been found necessary to keep the plant in operation until Saturday midnight and have it resume Sunday midnight, in order that we may keep up to schedule in the delivery of our product for which we have orders.

"Much of our business comes from the manufacturers of automobiles or automobile accessories and the demand for our product would indicate prosperous conditions in that industry."

Mr. Elliott also stated that the business done in the first quarter of the present year exceeded that done in the last six months of 1927, when a very fair volume of business was recorded, considering the slow conditions of all lines of business at that time.

Hoover-Lowden Show Strength At Primaries

Republican National Convention At Kansas City But Eight Weeks Away

LOWDEN MANAGERS ARE ENCOURAGED

Pennsylvania, Massachusetts And Ohio To Have Primaries Next Tuesday

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Eight weeks from today the Republican national convention meets in Kansas City to select its presidential candidate.

The field heads into the highly important six weeks of April and May, filled with primaries and state conventions, with the situation only slightly beginning to clarify.

Considerably less than half of the delegates have been chosen, either by primary state convention, or action by state committees, and those that have been chosen are about equally divided between the leaders—Herbert Hoover and Frank O. Lowden.

Six Primaries Finished.

Only six of the seventeen primary states have gone to the polls, Illinois, Michigan, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Dakota and Wisconsin. These states have between them 164 delegates. Lowden is estimated to have 48 in Illinois, theother 13 being doubtful; 13 in North Dakota and 7 in Wisconsin, a total of 68. Hoover has picked up 33 in Michigan, 12 in New Hampshire, and 4 in Wisconsin, a total of 49. Senator George W. Norris, R., of Nebraska, has received the 19 from his native state, and 15 in Wisconsin, making 34.

The primaries to date admittedly have thrown but little light on the situation as a whole.

Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Ohio, three of the largest units in the convention, combing 169 delegates, have primaries next Tuesday. California acts on May 1, and will send a solid Hoover delegation of 29; Maryland follows on May 7, and Indiana on May 8, with New Jersey coming along on May 15. Maryland and New Jersey are claimed solidly by the Hoover managers.

The Lowden managers have been greatly encouraged by the refusal of Colorado to instruct for Hoover.

Fitzmaurice Is Eager To Reach Quebec Airport

Forced Down On Flight From Greenely To Murray Bay

IRISH FLIER HAS LETTER TO COOLIDGE

Hopes To Get To Washington Speedily To Deliver His Message

(International News Service)

SEVEN ISLANDS, Que., April 17.—Stormy weather, with high winds and snow, prevailed over the St. Lawrence valley today between Seven Islands and Greenely Island where the German trans-Atlantic plane Bremen made a forced landing. Flying conditions were extremely dangerous. It was believed unlikely that "Duke" Schiller and Commandant James E. Fitzmaurice were able to hop off at Natashquan this morning unless they took desperate chances.

NATASHQUAN, Que., April 17.—Commandant James E. Fitzmaurice, relief pilot of the German trans-Atlantic plane Bremen, who was forced down here by stormy weather while flying from Greenely island to Murray Bay, Que., hoped to be able to continue his journey today, reaching the airport outside of Quebec before dusk. The distance is approximately 600 miles.

High winds prevailed throughout the night, but Fitzmaurice was so anxious to resume his journey that the pilot of the plane, 'Duke' Schiller, was ready to take more than the usual chances.

Fitzmaurice's decision to leave the Bremen was made after a conference with Captain Herman Koehl and Baron von Huenefeld. It is understood that there was no disagreement of any kind. The three will be united later on.

Fitzmaurice has in his possession a letter of greetings from President William Cosgrave of the Irish Free State to President Coolidge. Fitzmaurice said he was anxious to get to Washington to deliver it.

Prominent Society Doctor And World War Aviator Is Beaten By Unknowns

ATTACK DISCOVERED BY DOCTOR'S ROOMMATE

Find Heavy Brass Artillery Shell Used To Bludgeon Physician In Apartment

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 17.—Slugged into insensibility in his apartment, Dr. E. Garmsey Brownell, prominent society physician and lieutenant-colonel in aviation during the World War, was taken to Roosevelt hospital in a dying condition today. He suffered a possible skull fracture when beaten over the head and shoulders by an unknown assailant.

Michael Le Bache, former French aviator who had occupied the studio apartment with Dr. Brownell for four years, found the physician lying on the floor. A blanket had been thrown over his head. The assailant had tried unsuccessfully to remove blood-stains from the floor and various objects in the room, detectives said.

After discovering wine glasses on a table, the detectives said they believed Dr. Brownell had been giving a party. Le Bache told police he had spent the evening away from home.

A heavy brass artillery shell, an ornament in the room, had been used to bludgeon the physician.

Bremen Fliers Hope To Leave Island On Plane

Indications Hop To Quebec May Be Tried In Bremen Wednesday

FLIERS HOPEFUL OF COMPLETING REPAIRS

Report Fitzmaurice May Fly Back With Propeller Parts

(International News Service)

MURRAY BAY, Que., April 17.—The ice breaker Montcalm, which tried to go to the relief of the crew of the Bremen on Greenely Island, reported by wireless today that it had been caught in an ice floe in Belle Isle Strait and was drifting 85 miles southwest of the island, meanwhile fighting a severe blizzard.

Dr. Louis Cuisiner, of Trans-Continental Airways, Ltd., who remained behind on Greenely Island when "Duke" Schiller and Major James E. Fitzmaurice hopped off, is aiding the German flyers. Captain Herman Koehl and Baron von Huenefeld.

Schiller and Fitzmaurice were forced down by stormy weather at Natashquan and the time of their arrival here is problematical. It is understood that Fitzmaurice planned to superintend the shipment of spare parts for the Bremen from Quebec.

Hope to Leave Wednesday

QUEBEC, Que., April 17—Captain Hermann Koehl and Baron Ehrenfried von Huenfeld will hop off from Greenely Island in the trans-Atlantic monoplane Bremen tomorrow if they are able to complete their repairs on the plane today.

This, at least, was the hope of the German fliers, who remained with their plane on the barren ice-bound island upon which they ended their epochal flight, after their companion, Commandant James E. Fitzmaurice, had departed southward in "Duke" Schiller's rescue plane.

Freezing Weather Does Not Hurt Fruit

Only Crop Which Might Be Affected Is Early Cherries, Says County Agent

The freezing weather of the past few days has not done much damage to the fruit crop of Lawrence county according to a report from County Agent H. R. McCulloch.

Although budding is not far enough along so that the actual damage can be determined, it is thought that most of the fruit is safe. The only thing which might be affected by the freeze is the early cherries, and if they have been damaged, it has not shown up yet.

Fruit farmers in the county report their trees to be in the best of condition.

Rev. Frank S. Brenneman of New Castle, was received as a member of Presbytery, coming from the Synod of Michigan where he was a former member.

One of the outstanding features of the meeting was the adoption of the stablizing resolution or the pension plan recently adopted by General Assembly whereby each church was to put in its call to a new minister that it would pay its part toward the pension fund.

The morning session opened at 10 o'clock with a fine representation of about 27 churches present. The retiring moderator, Rev. D. C. Schebly of the Mahoning Presbyterian church was in charge.

fice destroyed by fire on New Year's eve has been delayed for a number of reasons. The new church building will be erected on the North Hill.

What he new flying field on the Harlansburg road will be named is causing quite a stir among those community minded citizens of New Castle. Yes, it is even striking the youngsters. This morning Pa Newc received in his mail a letter from Jeanne Melvin of grade 4B, Highland school. "Dear Sir" the letter reads, "I suggest the name RENTZ FIELD for the new airport."

Plans for the 33rd district convention of Rotary are progressing rapidly in the hands of the local committees. Boy Scouts will help. Local Rotarians have donated their cars so that the crowds may be handled more easily. But it is again up to New Castle as a city to show these visiting Rotarians what sort of a city we have. It is up to the people to display that friendliness for which New Castle is noted. And again the people will not fail.

How the new hotel The Castleton has affected New Castle may be seen in another column of today's paper. Of especial interest is the statement that over 7,000 people have been served at banquets in the Crystal ball room of the hotel. Before The Castleton" was erected young Pa Newc who still is somewhat of a stranger in the city wonders where these large banquets were held.

Some of the steps on Mercer street which is being widened still project out onto the sidewalk. At night they are stumbling blocks. At least Pa Newc heard one man stumble last evening, mutter a few remarks and pass on. Why cannot the remaining projecting steps be taken away as soon as possible?

Workmen are beginning to clear away the debris about the new First National Bank of Lawrence County building. Soon the guard fence will be removed and early in the summer it is expected that the structure will be ready for occupancy. And the new building will do a great deal to enbance the appearance of Washington street. It is new, it is modern and it is in keeping with the spirit of the city.

Uhl to Preside.

District Governor Charles F. Uhl of Somerset, Pa., will preside over the sessions. They will last for two days and will consist of general meetings, round table discussions and entertaining features. Discussions will include such subjects as ethical business methods, Rotary extension, boys' work, civic responsibilities of Rotarians and kindred subjects.

One of the important tasks of the conference will be to select the body's nominee for the district governorship. The governor is formally elected at the international convention, but is named at the conference. One of the pre-requisites for district governorship is the nominee's willingness to give a great deal of his time to Rotary affairs, his willingness to serve Rotary and his standing in the district. It is his duty to visit each club in his territory at least once a year and inspire each separate organization to greater activity along the lines mapped out by the six objects of Rotary.

MILLER DENIES ANY KNOWLEDGE OF SLUSH FUND

Attorney General Daugherty in 1923?"

"No, I never went to the White House with either of those gentlemen."

Under questioning by Senator Nye (R) of North Dakota, Miller denied raising any funds for the Republican party in 1923 or 1924. He said he did not know that "Sinclair Liberty bonds were available" in 1923.

"Did you handle any Liberty bonds in that year?"

"No, sir."

Mrs. John T. Pratt, widow of the New York capitalist, was the next witness.

"There is some testimony here about Mr. Pratt making a $50,000 contribution to the Republican party in 1923 at the same time that he received $50,000 in Liberty bonds from Will H. Hays," said Walsh. "There are a few matters we thought you might clear up. Did he tell you about that transaction?"

"No, he never did."

"Was it customary for him to talk to you about such matters?"

"He made many gifts without discussing them with me, "said Mrs. Pratt.

Walsh said the committee had learned that Pratt sold $25,000 of the Sinclair bonds but that no trace could be found of the other $25,000.

"Do you know what became of that other $25,000 in bonds?"

"Nothing at all, Senator," Mrs. Pratt said.

She said she didn't know why Pratt had later given back to Hays $50,000 of his own Liberty bonds.

Mrs. Pratt said she knew Hays very well. She said he came to her home two months ago to ask her to search her late husband's papers for trace of the Sinclair bonds.

"It was on February 12, Lincoln's birthray, that he came to my house and asked me if I could find the record of Mr. Pratt getting these bonds. He said there must have been some record in Mr. Pratt's papers. I sent to the office and looked through the papers and found the documents, indicating he got the bonds."

She was then excused.

Clarence C. Chase, son-in-law of Albert B. Fall and an El Paso, Texas banker, followed Mrs. Pratt to the stand.

Walsh first read an exchange of telegrams in November, 1923, in which Fall asked Chase to accompany him from New Mexico to Cleveland on a "private matter."

BREMEN FLIERS HOPE TO LEAVE ISLAND ON PLANE

Amour, the nearest wireless station to Greenely Island, indicated that the Bremen's propeller shaft was damaged, but that the fliers thought they could repair the damage in time to leave the island tomorrow.

The radio messages did not indicate whether the fliers intended to essay a flight direct to Mitchel Field or whether they would simply attempt to get to the nearest air base where permanent repairs could be made.

Fitzmaurice Delayed

Meanwhile Commandant Fitzmaurice was being held at Natashquan, Que., today by bad weather after a gruelling 200-mile flight under terrible weather conditions. Fitzmaurice and Schiller had hoped to reach this city when they started out, but they ran into a terrific storm and Schiller thought it advisable to land at Natashquan.

It is believed that Fitzmaurice will attempt to get to Montreal. There, according to reports from New York, he will be met by Timothy A. Smiddy, the Free State minister to the United States. Smiddy is now in New York and, according to reports, will leave for Montreal tomorrow night.

From Montreal it is believed the Irish flier and minister will go directly to Washington, D. C., where Fitzmaurice will deliver in person a letter he is bearing from President Cosgrave of the Irish Free State to President Coolidge.

Junkers Plane at Montreal

At about six o'clock last night Miss Herta Junkers, daughter of the builder of the Bremen, arrived at Montreal in a sister ship of the trans-Atlantic plane, the Junkers F-13.

The plane was piloted by Fred Melchior. The hop from Curtiss Field was accomplished in little over three hours. Gerhard Junkers, brother of Herta, accompanied her on the flight.

The F-13 carried surplus fuel and spare parts intended for the Bremen. Just what arrangements Miss Junkers will make for transporting the repair parts to Greenely Island, if they are needed, is not known as yet.

There are rumors that Fitzmaurice's flight with Schiller was made for the purpose of meeting the F-13 at Montreal and then flying it back to Greenely Island with the repair parts. The F-13 is equipped with the only propeller in America which will fit the Bremen.

According to first reports the propeller of the trans-Atlantic plane had been damaged when the plane descended after its grim battle westward across the Atlantic Ocean in the face of adverse conditions of all kinds.

Radio messages from Point Amour added somewhat to the meager details of the adverse conditions encountered by the three fliers in their flight.

In Driving Snow

According to the messages they encountered heavy snow, sleet and rain in the latter part of the flight. While over the northern tip of Newfoundland they found themselves in the midst of a driving snowstorm.

The fliers' gas was running low. They knew they were over land, but it is believed they were not certain just what their bearings were.

Then they saw the lighthouse on Greenely Island. At first they thought the lighthouse was a sealing steamer. They flew lower and sought a place to land. In the middle of the tiny island was a small body of water.

They descended and attempted to alight on the frozen-over pond. In doing so they crashed through some of the thin ice and slightly damaged their plane.

The ice-breaker Montcalm, which started out to the aid of the fliers as soon as word was received that they were marooned on Greenely Island, seems to be waging a losing battle against the ice. Despite all its efforts to get nearer to Greenely Island it is now believed to be about 80 miles away from the island. Previously it had been reported only 60 miles away.

It is now feared that the ship will have to return to North Sidney to replenish its coal supply before it can reach Greenely Island.

Gardeners Work At Consistory Grounds

Lawn Is Being Reseeded And Rolled By Force Of Workmen For Summer

Getting ready for summer is taking much of the time of the workers at the Scottish Rite cathedral, according to Herbert Pearrs, manager of the cathedral.

At the present time, trees which have died are being replaced; the grass plots are being seeded and rolled; fertilizer is being applied; and in places where it is difficult to get grass seed to grow, the ground is being sodded. Some of the trees are also being sprayed.

"We are doing this," says Mr. Pearrs, "because we want the setting for New Castle's most beautiful building to be just as nice as the building is itself."

Who am I? What office do I hold? What is the capital city of my state?

Who is president of Cuba?

Today marks the anniversary, in 1704, of the establishment of the first permanent newspaper in America. What was it called?

Where did the word "laconic" originate?

What is the next line to: "Oh, what a tangled web we weave?"

"Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility; for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble." Where does this passage appear in the Bible?

TOO MANY LAWS.
The charge is frequently made that we have too many laws. In the 1927 session of the General Assembly, 2300 bills were presented for passage, some of them being 200 pages long. The task then at hand was the weeding out of the bad laws and passing the ones that seemed to have merit. Of the 2800, hardly 800 were passed and signed, and of this 800 perhaps half were appropriation bills for schools, hospitals, state institutions and the like. The balance were for the large part, merely amendments to existing laws.
In my own case, I presented but four measures, but every one of them passed the House and the Senate. To pass a measure it is necessary to get the co-operation of the other members of the General Assembly. Acquaintanceship and experience are invaluable factors in this respect, and a term's service is the one thing that builds these two factors. After sending a member down for one term and paying for his seasoning and experience, isn't it the course of wisdom to return him for his second term when he will be in position to render a larger service? I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for the second term.

Save-The-Union Strike Failure, Leaders Assert

Total Number Of Men Out On Strike Far Below Number Sought By Call

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 17.—Operators and officials of the United Mine Workers of America joined today in declaring that the strike called by leaders of the "save the union" committee among unorganized miners and strikebreakers, has failed.

"It doesn't amount to much," was the opinion expressed by P. T. Fagan, president of District No. 5, United Mine Workers, who estimated that not more than 1,000 miners had gone out yesterday in response to the call of the "left wing" of the union. While officials of mines included in the strike area admitted that in a few cases men had quit work, all were united in asserting that the strike had not affected the industry to any appreciable extent. A few small demonstrations have been reported but these have been broken up by state troopers, who reported that even fewer miners have appeared on picket lines since the beginning of the strike.

While refusing to concede the strike a failure, leaders of the "save the union" committee admitted today that the total number of men on strike was far below the 100,000 expected to answer the call. More than 5,000 were on strike and the movement had not yet reached a standstill, Anthony Minerich, organizer for the so called "liberal" movement, asserted.

GIRLS ARE SMARTER?

EDUCATIONAL probers, poking into elementary school statistics, find that girls do better than boys. The flunkers are boys three times out of five.

Yet, the teachers say, the girls are not really smarter than the boys. They merely do the work more satisfactorily.

Why is that? One educator suggests that possibly it is because the teachers, nearly all women, understand girls better, and so are able to accomplish more with them. When the boys get into junior high, under men, they often improve.

If that is one factor, there are probably others. The girls are likely to be more conscientious about their school work, also more eager to shine. Boys like to pretend they don't care.

STLYE CHANGES COSTLY

WHEN the women of America adopt extreme styles of apparel they develop great prosperity for certain lines of industry and destroy other lines developed after long years of painstaking effort.

When the short skirt was adopted it brought dismay and unemployment to the textile mill cities of this country. When artificial silk was adopted as the popular article of wear the mills making that product were overwhelmed with business, but the cotton mill towns were in trouble. There has been much idleness in the cotton mill cities during recent years.

Announcement was made at Paris recently that future styles would bring skirts for women several inches longer than prevailing styles. That news brought joy to American textile cities. A writer in The Argus, at Newport, R. I., says it only four inches are added to the length of skirts it will mean millions of dollars added to the textile industry of the country. That little strip of four inches would mean thousands of unemployed would be called back to the mills, plants now idle would be busy, there would be happiness and measureable prosperity, covered legs would give spur to business and promote human happiness.

Four inches of additional skirt length seems rather small to be counted of national importance, but when four inches of cloth is multiplied by all the women of the nation and by all the dresses they own and will own, the large number of four-inch pieces takes on a staggering importance. The little item means employment for thousands and business that makes cities busy and prosperous.

ANOTHER OBSTACLE TO AVIATION PASSED

THE FIRST non-stop westward crossing of the Atlantic Ocean by the three daring aviators aboard the monoplane Bremen ranks with the greatest achievements of overseas flight—the eastward crossing of the North Atlantic, the westward crossing of the South Atlantic, the Arctic crossing of the Atlantic and Pacific by the U. S. Army round-the-world expedition and the flights to the Hawaiian Islands from the Pacific coast.

Generally unfavorable air currents blowing toward Europe from the North American mainland create a very serious handicap to westward flight and a help to eastward flight. The natural westward crossing of the North Atlantic "with the wind" is on a southerly course, which would be made feasible only by stops at islands like the Azores and Bermudas.

It should be understood, therefore, that the fact of Captain Herman Koehl and Baron von Huenefeld, Germans and Commandant James Fitzmaurice of the Irish Free State Air Force was performed despite a handicap which most aviators believed to be desperate at the present stage of airplane efficiency. Reports indicates that they fought with head winds for a large part of their journey, as their flying time seems to have been about thirty-four hours for a distance of 2125 miles, an average of less than sixty-two miles an hour. To this handicap was added the terrible fog barrier which masks the coasts of Newfoundland, Labrador and the maritime provinces of Canada so much of the time. It was indeed fortunate that they sighted the lighthouse on Greenley Island; the mainland beyond presented overwhelming obstacles to a safe landing, and even if it had been effected in the wilderness of Labrador or Northern Quebec the aviators might have been months in reaching an outpost of civilization. It is a question whether they would have been able to survive the rigors of this hard land.

That the crew of the Bremen failed to reach the objective at Mitchel Field, New York, is slight detraction from their performance. They have sundered the death barrier behind which their predecessors on this great adventure disappeared forever—Nungessor and Coli, the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, with Captains Hamilton and Minchin, and Captain Hinchliffe and the Hon. Elsie Mackay.

These three men faced every possible discouragement of their enterprise, persisted in risking everything on their ability to win a death battle with tremendous natural forces allied against them, and have triumphed. There is a world fellowship of appreciation for brave deeds accomplished that will give the victors full honor and acclaim. They deserve every bit of it.

Another way to reduce is to worry too much about business.

When you want to have fun get a crowd to telling their middle names.

Fred L. Rentz is a Candidate for G. O. P. Delegate.

Fred L. Rentz, genial publisher of the New Castle News, and a candidate for delegate to Republican National convention, was a visitor in the county the past few days, campaigning in the interest of his candidacy. He states that he has received very favorable reports of his candidacy here. This is Fred's second adventure into politics he at one time filling an unexpired term as mayor of New Castle and proved to be a very efficient official.

Of the three candidates who have presented themselves for the delegate nomination to the National Republican convention only two are to go. He is a member of the New Castle Rotary club and has always taken an active part in the club activities. He is also interested in the many civic improvements movement of his home town.

Some time ago we had occasion to visit a specialist along a certain line in a southern city and he asked us if there was not one in this line in New Castle. We said yes. He looked in a little book and then told us no one in his line was listed in the little book which he had and he wrote the addresses of several in his line in cities near to New Castle. First time we get a chance we are going to tell the local chaps in that line about this. It may help them in their business later. What we had wrong with us was nothing serious of course.

While it is true that Methodist preachers are getting a hundred dollars a year more now than they did in 1923, the average pay is still only $1,496 a year. For the good the Methodist preachers do this is entirely too small renumeration. A Bourbon prince, whatever that may be, who has been traveling in Europe, and who showed annoyance when landlords presented their bills to him after he had been at their hotels for some time, has been ordered deported to some other country. We have noticed that trait in a lot of people in this country when bills were presented to them. There is no use showing annoyance when asked to pay a bill, especially a hotel bill, because in that case all they have to do is to press a buzzer for the house cop and he attends to the transportation to the nearest jail house.

In spite of the successful flight of those three chaps from Europe to this country in an airship, we are not going to undertake any ocean flying ourselves for a while yet.

Not very long ago England got a chance to hold onto about all the raw rubber in the world and the price went to a dollar a pound. Of course, Americans use most of it and it looked as if England was going to make America pay its war debt by the rubber route. A Mussolini Plan.
Costes and Lebrix.
The Missing Link.
Richest Country.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Mussolini says Fascism will be permanent. He plans it so there will be "a place in Italy for each person and each person will occupy it." That, fortunately, is not so. In such a country, no Mussolini would be possible.

He did not stay in his place, or in the prison to which he was sent. He began as a Socialist and became as powerful a dictator as the world has seen.

Cromwell did not stay in his place, so Charles the First lost his. Danton did not stay in his place, Mirabeau abandoned his place, Robespierre gave up the law, and Louis XVI went via the guillotine. Ability refuses to "stay in its place," and for that reason, there is progress.

Don't forget the flying Frenchmen, Costes and Lebrix, back in Paris from Tokio, flying 10,370 miles in six days with seven stops, sleeping not more than four hours on any night, sometimes not sleeping at all.

Those are real fliers, and when they start westward across the Atlantic, as they will, Lloyds will not bet against their success.

Civilization will begin when men engage only in friendly loyal competition, as these fliers do, instead of killing each other in war, and cheating each other in business.

Roy Chapman Andrews leads an exploring party from New York Museum of Natural History to search for the missing link in Mongolia. Man's career on this earth is supposed to have begun in Mongolia. It is more likely, as Haeckel suggests, that it began in several places at about the same time, various races coming up through evolution, from ancestors quite different.

One theory says "the African race from gorillas, the Mongolian race from ourang-outangs, the Caucasian race from chimpanzees," the last animal being the most intelligent, and, in some way, most unpleasant of the three.

However and wherever we started, it will be hard to find that missing link between animal and man, and hard to identify them, if found. You cannot identify the link between babyhood and childhood, or between childhood and man. It is all so gradual. We slip from infancy to dotage as we climbed from protoplasm to our present forms, with changes imperceptible.

In New Zealand, everything possible is done for the average man. Workers are protected, public contracts provide for employing older men, on a friendly basis. Railroads owned by the people transport laborers seeking work free of charge. If they find the work, they pay their fare.

It is no place for a man to get very rich, too many laws protect the average man. It is no country for a go-getter American, that wants to "get his", no matter what happens to others.

On the other hand, New Zealand, short in hundred-time millionaires, is the richest country in the world, per capita. New Zealand's AVERAGE wealth is $3,371.70. Little Switzerland comes next with $2,998.20. The United States comes third with $2,941.90, and Russia last with an average per capita wealth of $216.60.

That, however, is the fault of the stupid czars. Russia will not remain poor. With such a ruler as Peter the Great, civilized, Russia would be the world's richest country.

Gov. Smith of New York is warmly welcomed in the south, and is as good as nominated, now.

He visits a fire engine house in North Carolina, says "Hello, boys," to the men, and they know that he has been in many a fire house before, and understands the work done there.

Many friends offer advice about his campaign, and how to run it. He is advised, here, to put his charming daughter in charge of the campaign speech making. She understands it.

London was amazed when Henry Ford made a speech of only 29 words. Gov. Smith's daughter would call that extreme verbosity. Her speech, when her father ran for governor last time, was 21 words shorter than Ford's London speech. "I hope you will all vote for father," was the speech, and they all did, apparently.

Commander Byrd's air voyage to the South Pole will be useful, as well as romantic. He will probably send back his planes to protect them from crumpling, crushing ice, while he spends months in Antarctic exploration. Gentlemen whose business is making money, after others tell where it can be found, expect many things from this Byrd adventure.

There is copper in the Antarctic regions, and gold probably. Ice-cold gold fields, near the South Pole, would draw crowds as did the hot African fields.

For gold, men will go anywhere, run any risk.

Commander Byrd will also hunt the new retreat of the Antarctic furbearing seal, which has retired from its old haunts, and bring back information about whales, very numerous, near the South Pole.

Important scientific news is hoped for from the expedition including important data about the tides in the Antarctic ocean, but reliable information about new gold fields is what the crowd hopes for.

A new shorthand, called speed writing, translatable by any intelligent operator, makes it possible to send picture and 2,500 words by telephoto. The American Telephone & Telegraph company sent a picture and 2,500-word message from New York to Los Angeles in seven minutes.

Mr. Gifford and his associates are to be congratulated on this new saving of time and labor. Whatever saves labor and time makes human labor more valuable and higher wages possible, it is the workers' business to see that they get the higher wage.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

SWINDLING THE PREACHER

A Chicago Theological Seminary has just completed a survey or questionnaire investigating the amount to which preachers are swindled.

Its results show that the clergyman who escapes being swindled in the course of his ministry is an exception.

Every sucker list contains the names of many ministers, which makes them an easy prey for a sales talk.

The city pastor seems to be more worldly wise than his country cousin.

Ministers were asked five questions:

1. Have you ever been swindled by professional crooks?

2. If so, how, in your present opinion, could the swindle have been prevented?

3. Do you believe in punishing such crooks?

4. How may they be detected?

5. Have you any counsel to pass on to other ministers?

Almost all of the preachers said they had been swindled at various times in amounts ranging from a five-dollar bill given to a stranger with a plausible, heart-rending tale, afterwards found to be false, to thousands of dollars, lifetime savings, usually in oil and mining stocks.

Dr. Ozora S. Davis, president of the Chicago Theological Seminary, drew up these maxims:

Build a reputation for investigating.

Don't rely too much on your own judgment. Send the applicant for aid to the proper charitable organization. Consult a lawyer on important business dealings.

Don't give your card to strangers or letters of recommendation to men, organizations or plans with which you are not fully conversant. You may be an innocent aid to a swindler.

And last, study people.

One point that Dr. Davies makes should be stressed.

The charitable organizations. A great deal has been said about their coldness and heartlessness, but much of it is due to the fact that they investigate every case they help and are much better prepared to investigate it than you are.

Don't let your sympathies run away with your judgment.

Most of the ministers seem to be

Bible Thought For Today

THANK THE LORD—O give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good; for his mercy endureth forever.—Psalm 136:1.

PRAYER: "Sing we to our God above, Praise eternal as His love."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE BOTTLE GAME

The milk bottle does not look important. The consumer pays little attention to its fate after the bottle is empty, but on its recovery often depends some of the milk distributors' profits. Chicago dairies in the past few years have been saving themselves $1,500,000 a year at a cost of about $300,000 a year by establishing an exchange to collect and redistribute the vagrant bottles.

When the organization was first started "bottle bootleggers" were doing a flourishing business. Junk dealers were in the habit of collecting bottles until a car load of a particular dairy's property had been accumulated, after which the car would be shipped to another city, sold to a bottle dealer at half the manufacturer's price and finally the bottles would be returned and resold to the dairy at full price under the pretense that they were new.

At first the Exchange kept a deputy sheriff employed six days a week serving replevins to secure the stolen bottles. Elaborate efforts were made to trace shipments which had left town before a court order could be obtained.

Now the bottle bootlegger is almost a thing of the past but even at present the Chicago Exchange handles as many as 250,000 bottles a day which have been collected by junk dealers or by drivers of competing dairies. The cooperation of the junk wagons has been secured by the payment of ½ of a cent for each bottle and the Exchange pays its expenses by charging the dairy 1½ cents.

At one time almost a carload of Pittsburgh bottles were discovered by the Chicago Exchange and milk bottles from Buenos Aires, Hong Kong and Moose Jaw were found in its collection.

There was a time in the United States when bottles other than those made for the distribution of milk commanded the attention of the junk dealer.

THE FROG AND THE SEA

The frog in a well thinks quite naturally that the well is the sea. Those of us who have never seen the ocean have illusions about the skating pond. Those of us who have never read history attach tremendous importance to events that may prove to be trivial. Young people seeking education will do well to read more history than anything else. Only under the light of history will they be able to judge the present and to make sound predictions about the future.

SLEET

All through the day and night they rushed along,
Braving the Irish gales and winning through;
Above, the sky; below, Atlantic's blue
The frail ship, stronger than the wind was strong.
A few more hours and then the shouting throng
They would be first so brave a feat to do.
And then a mist across their faces blew
And ice like jewels on their wires was strung.

The foes of men are many. Death contrives
Numberless pitfalls for the adventurous souls.
It has an endless means of taking live
And keeping brave hearts from their far-flung goals
Man's triumph over all is not complete.

SOMETHING ABOUT DREAMS

An Illinois correspondent writes that he has located the missing Miss Frances Smith, and asks me to notify her parents. My correspondent explains that he got his information about the whereabouts of the young woman in a dream. He explains that he hesitates to write directly to the parents, lest they call him a crank.

Well, I refuse, and for the very same reason. I have no doubt that the Smith family has received hundreds of letters setting forth the solution of its problem as worked out in dreams. A great many people have a tendency to dream about things they read about in the newspapers. When they get all worked up about some mystery that is occupying the news columns, they dream about it. Then they think they have solved the mystery.

I doubt that many big mysteries are competently solved by those who have no further interest in the case than such as they have acquired by reading about it and then dreaming about it.

But, speaking of dreams, it's wonderful what can be done with them. For instance, I have a tendency to forget names. I think this is largely due to a slovenly habit of mind. At some time or other, probably while very young, I have said to myself: "Why, I can't remember names worth a cent!"

Doubtless, if I was very young at the time, I thought this a fine distinction. It made me interesting to myself. I looked upon myself, subconsciously, as that devilish interesting fellow who can't remember names.

Well, it finally settled upon me as a genuine affliction, just as the cigaret habit may fasten itself upon a boy who starts smoking because he thinks it's smart to smoke.

And here's where the dream comes in. It is not unusual for me to try, for weeks to fish a certain name out of the depths of my unconscious memory. I know that the name is there, and it comes very close to the surface at times. But I can't quite get it.

Then, one restless night, I will have a dozen other names, some of which are at once familiar as names I have vainly tried to remember a long time ago. I wonder whether anyone else has such dream experiences as this.

Five Hundred School Musicians Will Play Here Friday April 27

Twelve Different Organizations In Concert Program Plans

Junior And Senior High Schools To Add Talent To Event

One of the largest musical concerts and exhibitions to be held in New Castle has been announced for Friday evening, April 27, in the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School auditorium.

LaVerne E. Irvine, head of music in the local high school and general chairman of the concert, states that over five hundred girls and boys representing more than 12 musical organizations will participate in the exhibition.

Proceeds from the concert will be used to defray the expenses of the musical organizations of the city which will make the trip to the Northwestern Pennsylvania High School musical contest at Grove City on Thursday, May 3.

The program will be a rehearsal for the Grove City contest, as all of the groups entering the contest will present selections which have been chosen for the event.

Mr. Irvine announces that the following organizations will take part in the affair: The North Street Junior High school orchestra, the junior orchestra of Ben Franklin Junior High, the senior orchestra of Ben Franklin, Ben Franklin's band, the Mahoningtown orchestra, the Croton band, the junior orchestra of the Senior High, the senior orchestra of the Senior High, the Senior High band, the Senior High orchestra, and the girls' and boys' glee clubs of the Senior High school.

Konjola Banishes Health Troubles For Local Youth

Says New Medicine Ended Liver And Kidney Troubles.

MR. ALEX MROZEK

Konjola is helping thousands of people who were never benefitted by any medicine or treatment before. The new compound acts upon the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, cleansing the whole inner-system and thus bringing relief to people who suffer from disorders of these organs. At the same time Konjola brings a new feeling of health over the whole system.

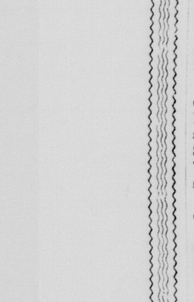

The remarkable remedy has been indorsed by many New Castle people in all walks of life. One of the latest statements came from Mr. Alex Mrozek, R. D. No. 8, New Castle. Mr. Mrozek made the following statement in an interview with the Konjola Man who is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this compound.

"The way Konjola reached the source of all my health troubles was surprising," said Mr. Mrozek. "I had been trying different remedies for so long I didn't think one medicine would ever end my miseries. But now that my health is back to normal I give full credit to Konjola and I want to indorse this medicine every chance I get.

"I had been suffering from liver and kidney trouble for a long time and these ailments gradually weakened my whole system. Because of my kidneys I would have to rise several times during the night, and this broke up my sleep so that I was always tired and worn-out in the day. My liver was very sluggish and caused my complexion to be of a yellowish color. All day long I would have severe headaches. Finally my stomach became affected and for the past several months I had to be very careful what I ate. After every meal I would have awful gas and bloating spells. The gas would press against my heart making it flutter and palpitate terribly. As the months passed my condition gradually became worse and I thought I would never be well again.

"After trying so many different medicines without getting relief, I didn't know what to do for myself. Finally I heard about Konjola and the good it had been doing for other sufferers so I decided to give this medicine a trial. It is a blessing that I did because it completely ended all my health troubles. My kidneys are stronger and never force me to get up during the night. Of course, my sleep is sound and restful and I get up the next morning feeling refreshed and full of energy. Konjola regulated my liver and drove all the poisons from my inner-system. My complexion has cleared up and I never suffer from those awful headaches. You can imagine my surprise when I also noticed the stomach trouble leaving me. I am now able to eat anything that I want without suffering the least bit afterward. In every way my health has improved. It is wonderful to know that there is a medicine like Konjola in the drug stores of New Castle and I will always recommend and indorse this medicine to everyone."

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington St., New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

more concerned with the spiritual than the material reaction of the swindler. They fear that the constant swindling of ministers might make them "hard boiled" or distrustful of their fellow men.

The minister sitting alone at home, or in his office is usually more easily approached than a business man who is safeguarded by his staff.

Plans are being worked out at the school to train ministers in business and to prepare them against possible swindlers.

The preacher should remember that helping an unworthy man or a fraud is the most efficient way to harm him, and his help should be given only to those who actually need it. This for the sake of the poor rather than the ministers' sake.

themselves. The maker of the proverb might have gone on to say that our opinions are frequently the consequence of a disordered nervous system. We really ought to be thoughtful enough to realize that opinions which are the results of "nerves" are counterfeit ideas. Neurologists — nerve experts — will tell you that if you know enough to distrust your opinions when you are not well, you are still master of your mental ship.

INFLUENCE

Men and women of importance in the community are frequently cautioned to be careful of their behavior because of their influence on others. But influence is not confined to prominent citizens. There is no person so humble in the town that he does not exercise considerable effect on the lives of some others near to him. It is deadly power—or an enlivening power—that we all carry with us.

HANDLING THE PUBLIC

One of the most important jobs that has been developed in recent years is the job of "public relations counsel." Railroads and other public utilities have found it is worth a great deal of money for them to have a man of rare tact and diplomacy who has a knowledge of the business and the self-control to meet an angry protest with a smile. The difference between the attitude of the public toward one corporation and the attitude toward another is often due almost entirely to the public relations counsel. It's the kind of a job that requires an able man and a man of unfailing courtesy. Young men, looking for a place to fit in the world's work, will do well to study this kind of job.

GREATLY increased usage now makes it possible permanently to reduce the regular price of Kotex at all stores.

A million new users have adopted Kotex in the past few months. They came to it as a result of the 2 major improvements we recently announced.

Kotex is now form-fitting. It has no awkward bulkiness to mar smooth slender lines. It is far softer, fleecier—more comfortable—than ever before.

These two great improvements, coupled with Kotex' other exclusive features, bring perfect peace-of-mind—utter and absolute comfort.

Kotex was the first water-soluble pad—hence disposal is no problem. It is the most absorbent—absorbing 16 times its own weight in moisture, and distributing it in such a manner as to obviate harsh, "waterproofed" backing.

Kotex deodorizes, another important point. And it is bought without hesitancy at any drug, department or dry goods store in the country. Get the Improved Kotex today.

Pittsburghers Coming Here

Bus Trade Tour Wholesalers To Stop At The Castleton On April 24

FRED L. RENTZ TO MAKE ADDRESS

About 25 representatives of leading Pittsburgh wholesale houses will be in New Castle on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, April 24, this being the principal point on the first of seven bus trade tours of the year sponsored by the Wholesalers' Council of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce.

The members of the tour will leave Pittsburgh in the morning by large motor bus and travel to New Castle by way of Ambridge, Woodlawn, Monaca, Rochester and Beaver, stopping at each place for a brief visit with customers of the different wholesale houses.

They will arrive at New Castle about 3:15 Tuesday afternoon and each member of the party will make individual calls on his customers here.

In the evening an informal smoker-meeting will be held in the ballroom of The Castleton, at which the various customers of the party will be entertained as guests of the individuals of the party. The program of the evening will consist of brief addresses by two members of the party, an address by Fred L. Rentz, orchestral music and two entertainers with a motion picture emphasizing various methods of retail merchandising with light refreshments. About 125 are expected to participate in this meeting.

On Wednesday morning, April 25, the tour will continue on to Sharon and return by way of Ellwood City, Beaver Falls, New Brighton and Rochester to Pittsburgh.

This tour is the first of seven tours planned by the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce in which motor bus tours will be made to the principal cities and towns of western Pennsylvania. One tour will be made each month. The second tour will include the cities of Mercer, Greenville, Meadville, Oil City, Franklin, Grove City and Butler.

The purpose of these tours is to bring the wholesale houses of Pittsburgh in closer acquaintance with their customers in the surrounding territory and give the customers an opportunity to become better acquainted with the representatives of the various houses. The tours held last year were considered quite successful and the association formed quite pleasing to both the members of the tours and their friends in the various places visited.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

THE LAME HEN'S WARNING.

"I knew you'd do it! I knew you'd do it!" Kingbird's wife came flying to meet him and all the birds in the barnyard praised him for his brave deed. Only one lame hen limped toward the returning victor and clucked dismally:

"You'll do that once too often my fine bird; once too often You are young and strong now but wait until you get old and all crippled up with rheumatism as I am and we shall see. Chicken Hawk will get you then, just as sure as can be. Pride goeth before a fall young bird remember that."

Kingbird didn't answer a word but the other hens in the barnyard clucked:

"For shame! For shame! You are an ungrateful thing to talk so when little neighbor Kingbird has just saved you and all the rest of us and our babies from what might have been a horrible fate."

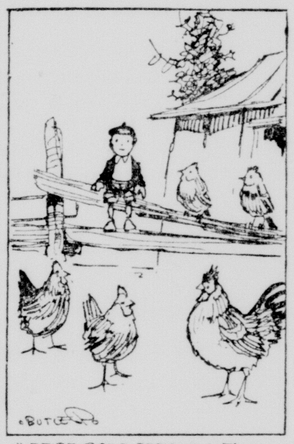

The fowl was ashamed of the lame hen. A young rooster with a bright red comb crowed rudely.

"Huh! Lame Hen isn't afraid of Hawk and I know why. She hasn't any babies herself and she is so old and tough that Hawk would not find her a dainty morsel. Little she cares what happens to the rest of us!"

The lame hen turned about and limped away clucking over her shoulder to the saucy rooster as she went.

"You will never be old yourself my young cockerel. You will lose your head one of these fine days and it will not be the fault of the chicken Hawk either."

"Cock-a-doodle-do" screeched the young rooster furiously and started after the old lady. There was no telling what he might have done to her if two of the older roosters had not stepped in front of him and barred his way.

"PRIDE GOES BEFORE A FALL," YOUNG BIRD, REMEMBER THAT CLUCKED THE LAME HEN

"Not so fast my son" said one of them flapping his wings warningly. "Remember she is a lady an old lady too and no rooster who's a gentleman harms a feather of a hen's head."

The young rooster refused to listen however and the next thing that happened the three of them—lame hen and two roosters—were fighting. All the hens and their husbands had gathered around and were watching the scrap.

The boy hopped upon the fence to see the better what was going on, and he was joined by Kingbird and his wife. His friend chuckled.

"Great folks, those fowls! Just look at them fighting. Now the hens are fussing with each other—and over nothing at all.

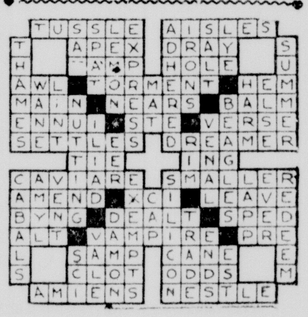

"I don't believe in fighting without cause but a cause I think is worth while is to protect my wife and babies. When my family no longer need me—when wife is out 'on her own' again the children able to shift for themselves— I will be the most peaceable bird in the world, but until then let every one look out for himself and keep out of my way."

Wednesday, April 25th. FLY AND MOSQUITO DAY. Cess pools should be cleaned and lined. Out-houses made fly-proof, stables and stable yards, pig pens and chicken coops cleaned. Water holes should be filled, spouting mended, garbage cans scoured.

Senate Committee Hopes To Complete Tax Measure Soon

Decision Near In Tax Reduction Is Reported; Look For Protracted Fight

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 17. — The question of whether congress shall allow a $200,000,000 or a $300,000,000 tax reduction this year neared a decision today in the senate finance committee.

The committee has about concluded its consideration of administrative features of the bill and then will take up the question of rates. The Democrats, fighting for a $300,000,000 reduction, were in sharp dispute with the administration ranks over the reductions to be allowed on corporation, admission, estate, automobile and exchange taxes. In each instance, the Democrats asked a greater reduction, if not the repeal, of taxes which the administration ranks held were necessary to retain in order to keep within the $200,000,000 limit fixed by the treasury.

The bill probably will be completed this week by the committee and the fight then will be transferred to the floor of the senate. The house already has slashed taxes $289,000,000 and unless the senate reduces this amount, a $300,000,000 tax cut will go to the White House for President Coolidge's approval. Administration leaders have hinted that the President will veto any bill, which exceeds the treasury limit.

Train To Ashtabula Discontinued Monday

Trains Nos. 334 and 335 of the Pennsylvania railroad between New Castle and Ashtabula were discontinued starting with Monday, April 16. The train was discontinued because of lack of patronage due to the changing conditions, chief of which is the increased use of the automobile.

Passenger service is still afforded to and from Ashtabula by trains 394 and 395, according to a statement from the office of Raymond Swenk, superintendent of the Erie & Ashtabula division.

State Police Are Attacked By Mob

Nearly 500 Miners And Women Stage Attack Upon Three State Policemen

(International News Service)

FREDERICKTOWN Pa., April 17—Hurling stones, a crowd of nearly 500 men and women, said to have been sympathizers with the strike called by the "save the union" committee, attacked three state police after they had been ordered to stop a march near Ten Mile Creek, today. The mounted troopers were said to have ridden into the crowd and used riot sticks to end the disturbance. Two men were arrested.

The trouble occurred soon after a march had begun on the Horner Mine, of the Trumbull Coal Company and the Clarksville Gas Company mine, both of which are located along Ten Mile Creek.

When told by troopers that the march would not be permitted, leaders of the crowd shouted, "Come on, let's kill the Russian Cossacks," the officers said. In the trouble which followed none of the officers were hurt but a number of members of the crowd were hit by the missles.

Tremendous Effort To Irrigate Nile Valley Impresses Gilfillan

New Castle Man Tells Of Some Of Points Of Interest In Old World Tour

Switzerland Makes Greatest Appeal To New Castle Travelers

"The blue Mediterranean? Well, I did not see much of it. In all, we spent 32 days on the water. Eighteen of those days I was sick, and the remaining 14 I did not feel good, so I spent most of my time in my cabin."

And that is the story of an Oddessy through the Mediterranean region as told by J. Clyde Gilfillan, who, with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Herb D. McGoun, returned Saturday from a three months' tour.

"One of the most interesting experiences on our trip was the jump between Paris and London, which we made on a plane owned by the Imperial Airways, Ltd.," continued Mr. Gilfillan. "This line was recommended to us as being by far the more safe because during its existence it has lost very few passengers. The ships carry ten passengers and their baggage.

"We left the regular cruise at Naples and spent three weeks touring Italy, Switzerland, France and England. The Swiss were the people we liked above all others, as their country approximates the United States in that everyone places cleanliness above all else. When you went into a butcher shop in Switzerland, one wanted to purchase something, while in the Latin countries, one did not eat for a week after visiting the shops and bazaars. Incidentally, Herb McGoun lived on crackers and tea the two weeks we spent in Jerusalem and Cairo. England also reminded us of this country.

"Then another feature of our trip was a week's journey up the Nile Valley. We rode up on the train, but came back by boat. The thing which impressed us most about this trip is the tremendous efforts which are expended to irrigate the Nile Valley. Sometimes they have to lift the water as many as four times. All of this is done by hand.

"What the natives of Egypt themselves deem the most successful mission is the United Presbyterian Assiut. The college itself is made up of 550 students, and attached to it is a school for 550 girls and boys. Then there is another girls school for 550 students, and two other schools, supported by converted natives, each with an enrollment of 550. The government now is taking over much of the educational work. Throughout the country there are almost 200 schools, ranging in enrollment from 51 to 300.

"The natives, I mean the converted natives, are doing much to help the cause of Christian education in Egypt. Last year they contributed $91,000 of the $98,000 which was used in evangelistic work. The church started the American University at Cairo, which since has been inter-denominationalized.

"But their is one peculiar trait about the Moslems. They will do nothing for their own people. It is every man for himself. That is, before they become converted. After conversion they spend large sums of money on education and Christian work."

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., April 17.—Farmers and homemakers of the state are offered 249 educational projects in the 1928 program of the Pennsylvania State college agricultural extension service, officials in charge of this work stated today.

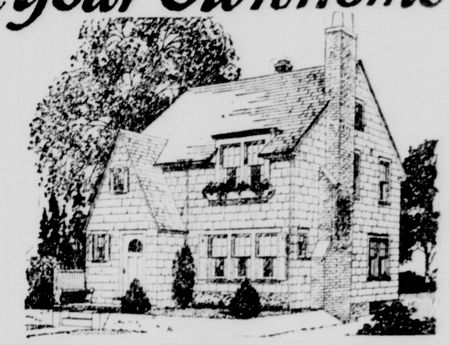

Animal husbandry has the largest number, 35, in four lines of work—beef, cattle, horses, sheep and swine. Other leading subject-matter divisions are agronomy and dairy husbandry with 25 each.

A summary of the remaining lines of activity reveals nine projects in agricultural economics, four in rural sociology, five in farm management, seven in agricultural engineering, 17 in entomology, 10 in apiculture, 10 in forestry, 20 in home economics, 20 in fruit culture, 16 in vegetable gardening, 10 in landscape architecture, 14 in plant pathology, 13 in poultry husbandry, five miscellaneous and four in boys' and girls' club work. Forty-six of the projects in other lines are devoted to club work.

From this list the farmer cooperators, at program planning meetings, select projects which are run as educational demonstrations in 65 counties having county agents and home economics extension representatives. Extension specialists in agriculture and home economics assist the resident representatives in carrying on the work.

Williamson Heads Board Of Trustees

No Boys On Honor Roll In New Wilmington Graduating Class; Other News

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, April 17.—Six new members were elected to the board of trustees of the local Presbyterian church at the recent business meeting of that congregation. James Williamson was selected as president of the board.

The other men are: Frank Hogan, Roy Thompson, James Pitzer, John Rust and John Semple. In addition to his office as president of the board of trustees Mr. Williamson is treasurer of the church.

Not a boy was included in the list of honor students of this year's graduating class in the college town high school published yesterday on the school bulletin board. Miss Dorothy Thompson as valedictorian headed the group of six girls who comprised the honor class.

Miss Katherine McClintock was named salutatorian and the other girls in the scholarship group are: Louise Adams, Doris Goff, Helen McCormick and Eleanor Beerbower. Both Miss Adams and Miss Goff had higher averages than the two leaders named, but they were not eligible for valedictorian and salutatorian because they have not been students at the local school for four years, having transferred from other high schools.

It is a coincidence that both the valedictorian and the salutatorian have been members of the college town high's girl basketball sextet and have also been active in high school dramatic work.

At the meeting of the Louise Scott Missionary Society, held at the local United Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon, Mrs. E. B. Russell read an original paper entitled "Methodist Missions". Mrs. Russell gave a lucid and interesting account of the development of missions in the Methodist church which greatly interested her audience.

It became known today that E. C. Wiggins, present coach of the New Wilmington high school athletic teams and an instructor in the school, had accepted a position as principal of the Farmington township schools in Warren county for the coming school year.

Since his arrival here two years ago Mr. Wiggins has successfully upheld the championship caliber of the college town high school sport teams and has established a reputation for himself as an instructor.

Mr. Wiggins graduated from Bethany College in West Virginia, where he was both a sport letter man and a member of the Migna Cum Laude group.

The date for the presentation of the senior play to be put on by the high school students has been set as May 11. The student stars in this comedy, "Hoodoo", will be Robert Herriott, Eleanor Beerbower and Dorothy Kuhn.

Students Criticise Collegiate Movies

Students Claim Movies Misrepresent Campus Life To The Public

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., April 17.—Along with other college men throughout the country Pennsylvania State College students in recent years have felt that the so-called brand of "collegiate movies" presented for public consumption has not been true to life. So they expressed pleasure today in the knowledge that the American Association of College News Bureaus in its recent annual convention has offered its assistance to the motion picture producers in more accurate presentations of college life in the films.

It has been made known also that a group of leading motion picture people, headed by Douglass Fairbanks, are engaging in research work in which one of the objectives is the straightening out of the collegiate situation. This is also welcome news at Penn State.

The "rah rah Siwash" conception of college life has passed completely out of the picture on modern college campuses, and is ever more ancient than the Floradora Sextet in the eyes of the modern college youth, according to a general concensus of opinion. Movies of campus co-ed cut-ups and impossible presentations give the non-college public the wrong impression of present-day college life, the college boys declare.

From their seats on the side lines the collegians from Maine to California are now "rooting" for Doug's research committee.

The Diary of a New Yorker

by CLARK KINNAIRD

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

NEW YORK, April 17.—There is no more adventurous and romantic profession than that of taxi driver in the biggest city in the world.

I have seen a big part of the world from cabs and hacks—London, Edinburgh, Cherbourg, Paris, Lyons, Budapest, Manzanillo, San Salvador, Guatemala City, Havana, for instance, but I have had my most thrilling taxi experiences in New York.

Here a man becomes a taxi driver after trying and failing at something else; or he does it for the fun of it, like the war aviator who prefers anonymity, I discovered the other day behind the wheel of a cab. "I get a kick out of this, too," he said. In the drivers' seat of taxis one finds ex-ministers, ex-colonels in the Russian army, ex-newspapermen, ex-policemen, ex-bartenders, ex-baseball players, ex-teachers, ex-actors, ex-salesmen, many of them inarticulate O. Henrys, brimming with colorful tales of human happenings in the Big Town. In making a lonely taxi trip to the far reaches of the Bronx or Brooklyn at two or three a. m., it is easy to get the driver in a confidential mood and hear about his life. Alexander Gross, who has hack badge No. A-27140, is a good example. He was the personal chauffeur of the late Franz-Josef, emperor of Austria and Hungary.

Larry Fey, hackman, pyramided ownership of one taxi into a million dollars, through taxi concessions at railroad stations and operation of night clubs. He liked to hire special trains to carry him from Chicago to New York. He also liked to hail a cab, buy it on the spot, engage the driver to carry him to the Saratoga race track, a hundred miles away, then present the car to the driver. Florida real estate ventures "cleaned" Larry, hackman, but not before he had had lots of fun and had "discovered" Texas Guinan. She became famous as hostess of his El Fey Club.

Monte Carlo has all the fame, but New York undoubtedly is the gamblers' capital. Games are staged in Times Square hotels in which as much as $500,000 changes hands in a night. Some of these games are for professionals only, attracting men like Nick the Greek and Arnold Rothstein, who can stake $50,000 on a card or a pair of tumbling dice without getting nervous.

The other morning a Broadway man dropped $17,000 in a dice game in less than an hour. No one feels sorry for him, because he is a ticket speculator.

Because of the danger of hold-ups the big games are never held twice in the same place. "Set-ups" are kept secret from all but the "wise mob", and guards are kept around the hotel by the operator of the game in order to prevent stick-up men from entering and grabbing the ponderous bankrolls toted by the players. After the game is over the winners are escorted to their homes by these guards.

The woman who cut corners with health

FOR a long time she had gotten by. Living on shoestring energy. Cutting corners with health. But now she was paying. Now, the least little thing tired her completely out. Enthusiasm, fun, play—they were almost total strangers. And every mirror mocked her to her face.

What a tragedy that so many people fail to realize the trouble constipation can cause—but let it go on neglected, doing its deadly work. Constipation saps vital strength. Thieves youth. Mars beauty. Throbbing heads and aching backs, dragging feet and lusterless eyes, are its fruits—and it frequently leads to serious disease in the end.

And the pity is that, all the while, it is so easy to relieve. So simple to prevent. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring prompt relief. Pleasant, safe prevention!

ALL-BRAN is effective and natural

Bulk or roughage relieves constipation in a natural way. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes bulk in generous quantity because it is 100% bran. This bulk carries moisture throughout the digestive system—gently exercising the intestines, sweeping out poisonous wastes. Part-bran products seldom contain sufficient bulk to be completely effective. Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. Because it is 100% bran and accomplishes 100% results.

So much better than harsh drugs

ALL-BRAN brings lasting relief. Far better than habit-forming pills and laxatives whose dose must be constantly increased and which are only temporarily effective. An appetizing cereal food. ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream—with fruits or honey added. Soaking a few moments in the milk brings out all its nut-like flavor. Mix it with other cereals too. Sprinkle into soups. Use it in many kinds of cookery. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

But be sure you have genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Don't take chances with part-bran substitutes, which, at best, can be but partially effective. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Guaranteed!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

"Mystery Witnesses" To Appear Today In Bond Investigation

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Important developments were expected today at the senate's inquiry into the Continental Trading Company's $3,080,000 Liberty bond "Slush Fund."

Mrs. John T. Pratt, widow of the late New York capitalist, and C. C. Chase, El Paso, Tex., banker and son-in-law of Albert B. Fall, were to take the witness stand along with Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian now under a jail sentence. Mrs. Pratt and Chase were the "mystery witnesses" subpoenaed by the senate public lands committee last week.

All three were summoned in an effort to learn what became of the Continental Company's bonds, $230,000 of which already have been traced to Fall and $260,000 of which were given by Harry F. Sinclair to the Republican National Committee. Miller was looked upon as the most important witness inasmuch as the committee has been informed he handled some of the Continental bonds for the Republicans.

Mrs. Pratt was called in connection with the story of Will H. Hays, former Republican national chairman, who testified $50,000 of the Sinclair bonds were turned over to her late husband. Hays said Pratt gave a $50,000 check to the Republicans in return for the "put and take" bonds and later refunded the bonds.

There was some mystery about what became of $25,000 of the Sinclair bonds and Mrs. Pratt was expected to clear up this angle.

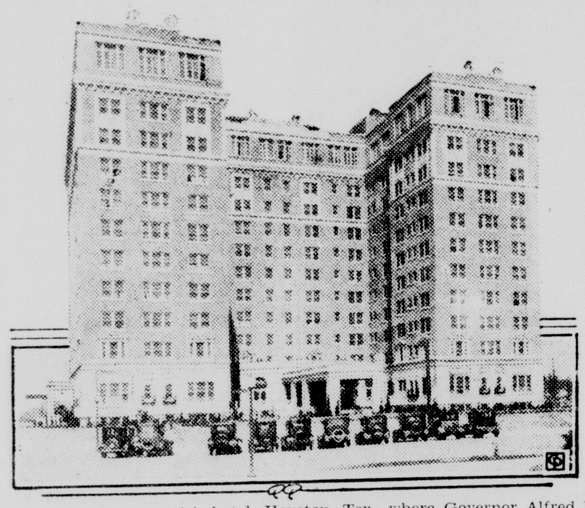

Summons Unexplained

The summoning of Chase was not explained by members of the committee. He was known to have handled some of the Sinclair bonds which went to Fall and it was possible the committee merely wanted this much-discussed story in the record.

Democratic senators meanwhile were said to be planning a new debate on the oil scandals in reply to the latest attack on their party by Senator Robinson (R) of Indiana. The Indianian read into the records a memorandum, written in 1921 by Robert C. Bell, a Democratic Assistant Attorney General, protesting against the leasing of the Salt Creek oil fields. The Bell memorandum charged the claims of the Midwest Refining company, a Standard Oil subsidiary, were based on fraud and recommended that the Salt Creek fields be kept intact. His memorandum was ignored by the Wilson administration.

Robinson declared this memorandum supported his contention that the Wilson administration was as negligent as the Harding administration in its supervision of government oil reserves. He cited the Bell opinion as further support of his contention that the oil scandals would not be an issue in the 1928 presidential election.

Noted Woman Judge Coming

Florence E. Allen To Speak At Community Dinner On April 30

BUSINESS WOMEN ARRANGE PROGRAM

JUDGE FLORENCE ALLEN

Florence E .Allen, judge of the supreme court of Ohio will be the speaker at a community dinner sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club Monday, April 30 at the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

It is not news to state that Judge Allen is the only woman in this country who sits on a supreme bench or even that she is the first woman in the world elected to sit in a court of last resort. Almost everyone knows these facts.

It is a big job—that of being a supreme court judge. Her day's program is planned to make it effective. Yet she is by no means a person of limited interests. For two years after leaving college she studied music in Berlin where she was musical correspondent for the Musical Courier and the Continental Times.

For three years she taught in an exclusive preparatory school. At the same time she was working for her degree of Master of Arts in political science and constitutional law and conducting the musical column of the Cleveland Plain Dealer. While studying law she lectured on music and current political history for the New York board of education and before Women's clubs in New York and Philadelphia.. Since her admission to the bar she has practiced law, served as assistant proscuting attorney of Cuyahoga county, O., as judge of the court of common pleas and now is serving as judge of the supreme court of Ohio.

She has not the strident voice, the hardness about the eye, the clenched hands that are sometimes thought of as marking the woman who has won the struggle for success. Her voice is round and full, her eyes are whimsical and restful; about her is an atmosphere of peace and serenity. She does not set out to "charm" people. It is no trouble to shake their hands, smile into their faces and listen if they have something to say.

Citizens of New Castle are fortunate to have the opportunity of listening to Judge Allen at the banquet on April 30.

The question "What is to become of the world?" will soon be settled by the graduates.

Ice Breaker Not Yet At Greenely

Neither Has Second Relief Plane Reached Marooned Fliers

(International News Service)

SEVEN ISLANDS, Que., April 17.—The second Greenely island relief plane, which was detained here over night by a violent storm which blew up over the gulf of the St. Lawrence, was expected to hop off again this morning for the scene of the trans-Atlantic plane Bremen's forced landing.

The relief plane, which left Murray bay yesterday morning with four occupants, including an International News Service correspondent, landed here shortly after 2 o'clock after battling a furious gale thick with mist and snow. It was not damaged.

The plane bearing the International News Service correspondent had a dangerous time of it and once it looked as though the flyers might be forced down in the desolate mountain region along the northern shores of the St. Lawrence. Violent headwinds rocked the plane in a most perilous manner and only the skill of Pilot Romeo Savachon saved it from threatened disaster.

A radio message reports that the Canadian government ice breaker Montcalm was not able to get to Greenely island, but at latest advices was still battling ice floes off the islet.

Plan Burial Of Thirteen Victims Of Blaze As Miner's Home Burns

(International News Service)

ALTOONA, Pa., April 17.—The little community of Blairfour today prepared to bury its dead following the fire which destroyed the home of Anthony Krepachalk, yesterday, while members of a wedding party lay sleeping and claimed the lives of 13 persons.

Joseph Rendolich of East Clarion county, and Thomas Hosicks, a boarder at the home, were to be buried today at Williamsburg. Wednesday morning the mother, Mrs. Sophie Krepachalk and her seven children, ranging in age from six to 18 years, will be buried. At the same time a separate funeral will be held for John and Peter Verbonitz of Ganister. The final funeral will be that of Carl Chisson, a boarder. It has been set for late tomorrow.

An investigation into the cause of the fire has been started by District Attorney Richard H. Gilbert of Blair county.

First Matches Of Y. W. Tennis Tourney Played

Indoor Tennis Tournament Opens Monday Evening On Y. W. Floor

Monday evening at 8:30 on the Y. W. C. A. floor the big indoor spring tennis tournament was launched with a wonderful match between Lillian Ekblom and Floy Owens. Miss Ekblom has an exceptionally hard and speedy serve and when it goes over the net it is next to impossible to return the ball..

Miss Owens has a fine serve and also a good return. However when all is said and done it is difficult to compare the two girls as they both excel in tennis qualities and were evenly matched.

In the tournament two sets out of three determine the winner the two sets played Monday evening were very prolonged due to the equal playing qualities of the participants. Score, first set, 11-9 Owens; second set, 9-7 Owens. Total of games 36.

A game of doubles was staged as a preliminary at 7:30. Ruth Jamison and Dee Reck against Ruth Johnson and Leola Johnson.

On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock another good match is promised. Match play between Mary Tewell and Rubie Niemi. Matches will be played off regularly every Monday evening at 7:30. Everybody is welcome to come there is no admission fee.

Twenty-Five Are Under Arrest For Disburbing Miner's

(International News Service)

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., April 17.—Twenty-five striking coal miners were arrested at the Hustead-Semans mine at East Millsboro early today on disorderly conduct charges after they were alleged to have accosted a number of non-union miners on their way to work.

Taken to Republic the miners refused to pay the $10 fines imposed and were taken to Fayette county jail. State police and Sheriff Tom Aubrey made the arrests after the miners were alleged to have crossed the Monongahela river from Fredericks-town in an effort to force a strike at the mine.

Fitzmaurice Is Criticized For Leaving Island

(International News Service)

BERLIN, April 17.—Berlin newspapers were rather wrought up today over Commandant Fitzmaurice's departure from Greenely Island in "Duke" Schiller's plane while his German companions remained with the Bremen.

Definite criticism of the Irish flyer was withheld, however, pending the receipt of a statement from him giving his reasons for his decision to leave the island before his companions.

Most of the papers regarded his unlooked-for departure as regrettable but refused to believe that any personal differences between him and the German fliers were responsible.

VERDICT AGAINST CITY; RESULT OF ACCIDENT

In the case of Albert Fair and Margaret Fair against the city of New Castle, which was tried before Judge Hildebrand, the jury brought in a verdict in favor of Mr. Fair for $77 and Mrs. Fair for $300. The case grew out of an accident on West Washington street, when an auto driven by Fair went into an excavation near the east end of the West Washington street bridge.

Attack Victim Is Found By Police

Costs Dimitru $10 To Get Beaten And Arrested On Cascade Street

Police received a call last night to the effect that there was a fight in progress on Cascade street, and Officers Lockard, Samuels and Richards went to the scene expecting to find plenty of trouble.

The fight was evidently over when they arrived and finally they found Dimitru Kiznuk, very much under the influence of liquor and bleeding profusely from a wound at the back of the head. Kiznuk was apparently going from door to door trying to arouse people.

He was taken into custody and brought to the police station, where it was necessary to call a physician to attend to his injured head. Kiznuk then secured ten dollars and was released on it until this morning.

At the hearing today Kiznuk claimed that somebody hit him and he was trying to get into a house with a telephone to call the police when the police came and got him.

Mayor Gillespie listened to his story then assessed Kiznuk a fine of $5 and required him to put up $5 with which to pay the doctor in the case. Kiznuk was not entirely over the effects of his experience of the night and insisted on paying not only the ten dollars but an additional five dollars, which he had.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE TO BE PROVIDED

New Method To Be Adopted At Senior High School Next Term

Every student of the senior high school of this city is making out a vocational questionnaire at the present time in accordance with the new guidance course, which will make its inception in the school courses next fall.

Principal Frank L Orth states that beginning with the fall term of school there will be a guidance teacher at the school who will devote part of each day to advising students as to what they will take up in life. The guidance teacher, who has not yet been selected, will teach the remainder part of the day.

This questionnaire which is being made out by the pupils is only the start of the new system and gives those in charge an almost complete knowledge of the students' likings and their dislikes in work. The form also asks for much other personal data such as, What year were you born in? Where? Your father's and mother's names?, and questions of this kind.

Discover Attempt To Dynamite Home Of Mining Foreman

(International News Service)

FINLEYVILLE, Pa., April 17—State police here today investigated the finding of six sticks of dynamite under the home of William Bartran, a non-union miner, at Venetia. The dynamite was found last night by Mrs. Bartran, who called the state police. The fuse and cap attached to the explosive had been burned, police said.

Bartran until three months ago had been a union miner, but at that time went to work as an assistant foreman for the Pittsburgh Coal company at their Montour mine No. 4. Homes of two other non-union workmen have been bombed within the past two weeks.

Champ Bargainer

Steward On Ocean Liner Travels Million Miles, Finding Cheap Things In All Quarters Of Globe

By ALEXANDER C. HERMAN
Exclusive Central Press Cable to New Castle News

ROTTERDAM, Holland, April 17.—Explorers who have traveled thousands of miles to discover some isolated place have nothing on Cyril Richards, English steward of a Holland-American line. He has traveled 1,000,000 miles to discover the bargain spots of the world—and has found them in every quarter of the earth.

"To get the best money's worth," says Richards, who would walk away with the title of Champ Bargainer if anyone would award it, "go to Martinique in the West Indies. There an American dollar buys a bottle of champagne. (It is $25 on the Bootleg Curb of New York—and then it is only pop and bicarbonate of soda.)

"If you're prohibition and wouldn't spend your money on liquor, take the dollar to Cape Town, Africa, and buy an elephant tusk. (Resell later and make 2,500 to 5,000 per cent profit.)"

Oh, There Are Many Places

Lest you do not hit these places in your ramblings, Richards rattles off other points on his 'round-the-world-bargain map:

"New York—Best bet is a railroad or steamship ticket in any direction, for they never have had a bargain on Manhattan since the Indians sold it for $24 worth of beads.

"Havana, Cuba—Cigars, but watch out for the dark ones.

"Colon, Panama—Silk suits for $9; ladies' kimonos for $10—worth $25.

"Hawaii—Nothing much but postals.

"Hong-Kong, China — Traveling bags for $10—worth $40.

"Sydney, Australia—Quartz beads and statuary for $2 and $3.

"Japan—Silk shawls and kimonas, and silk material.

Bargains in India

"Bombay, India—Copper trays at give-away prices; Jewelry at $3 — worth $40.

"Alexandria, Egypt — Real amber and Egyptian tapestries.

"Naples, Italy — Ladies' gloves at 20 cents a pair.

"France—Perfumes, although in Curaco, off Venezuela, one can get them even cheaper, for even in Paris there is some tax on perfume, but none in this town.

"Monetevidio, South America — Wicker chairs for $2 apiece.

"Buenos Aires — Spanish shawls and ebony walking sticks at fire sale give-aways.

"Vigo, Spain—The cheapest place in the whole country for shawls.

"London—Men's clothes, where one can get a $100 and $135 suit for $35.

Tourists Spoiling It

"Prices were even cheaper," explains Richards, "before the tourists turned shoppers. Now in the larger ports on the regular tourist runs, one must watch out for gyping. But tactful persuasion often goes a long way to driving a point home."

This champ is a veteran of the Princess Pat regiment, of Canada. He was wounded five times during the war, and then took to sea for a little vacation. He liked it so well he got a job as steward. He has been at it ever since, covering 131,000 miles in a good year, 71,000 in a bad year, and now is on his second million miles. He is only 32, and still is hopeful of finding other places where the dollar will be worth even more.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Seems as though once a subject gets started in this colyum it is a hard matter to let go of it. Flying has been the subject featured for the past week or so and every day something turns up to bring it back into print.

Today it's the matter of the ladies. That is, relative to flying. I have it on the authority of none other than James M. Smith Jr., than whom there is no than whomer in the matter of enthusiasm for aviation, that the debutantes of the city are taking to flying just as naturally as they take to bobbed hair.

Now ordinarily a young woman's name is not used in this colyum, not that they are unwelcome, but because they do not always want their names used. The society page is the exception, of course. But to place the onus upon Monsieur Smith, the ladies are taking to flying and the first two are Miss Emmy Lou Dickey and Miss Evelyn Pearson.

Were they frightened as the ship took off? Or did they scream when Pilot Sherman put the ship into a wingover or a loop? And did they scream hysterically when he put the ship "up on the prop" and climbed? They did nothing of the sort, according to Jimmy, who has it from Pilot Sherman. The ladies enjoyed a thrill and the chances are that the list will be swelled in the next few weeks.

Here is a statement of fact. Just now young ladies flying in New Castle is news, at least insofar as this colyum is concerned. The time will come, and rapidly, when such an occurrence will be commonplace. Hence the necessity of doing it soon if they wish to get into this colyum. Otherwise nothing but society page.

This is the night when the boys and girls of Westminster, past and present, will gather around for the annual blowout. It is the big night of the year for such celebrities as Attorney Homer C. Drake, Judge Chambers, Attorney Clyde Gibson, Frank L. Burton. The list could be enlarged, of course, but the idea is this: It's Westminster's night and those "old Westminster spirits" (plural used advisedly) will be in evidence.

There is a friend of ours down in the New Castle hospital. Sergeant Eugene Buckley, formerly of the New Castle police force, is in there for an eye operation and I know you are interested. Back in the days when Gene was on the night desk in police station an hour was well spent dropping in for a story. Every acquaintance of his is a friend, for he has that priceless faculty of binding people to him in the steel bonds of friendship.

Saw a crowd Monday afternoon that excited my envy. A gang of boys in the school yard of the Lincoln-Garfield school playing commies. The ground was damp and played havoc with stockings and knuckles, but the old urge came back to get down and shoot with them.

And by the way, do you remember the days when you used to shoot cunny thumb?

The Woman's Club of this city is observing Citizenship Week. The idea is a national one and has for its aim the broadening and developing of citizenship. MRS. HYATT WAS IN WRETCHED HEALTH

Farrell, Pa., Woman Kept Going Down Hill Until She Almost Lost Hope

Had No Idea That Any Medicine Would Help Her Like World's Tonic Did

Remarkable indeed was the statement recently made by Mrs. E. Hyatt of Farrell, Pa. She said:

"I have never paid any attention to proprietary medicine advertisements, but World's Tonic appealed to me as it was not claimed to be a cure-all, but was intended as a systemic treatment for catarrh, something I had suffered with for years.

"I purchased one bottle, and from the time I began to use it, I felt better. I had an idea it was my thoughts that made me feel like the medicine was really doing me good, but this has all vanished and I am now convinced that World's Tonic is a medicine of real merit, as it has proven it in my case.

"For the last two or three years I was almost an invalid and had used enough medicine to start a small drug store. My greatest burden was stomach trouble and catarrh of the head that impaired my hearing. Nothing I ate gave me strength. I fell off until I was nothing but a mere skeleton. Some said right at the start I had catarrh of the stomach and would never be well, but I never gave up as I had seen people as bad off as myself and they got well.

"I was nervous and the slightest noise would cause me to get excited and cause my heart to beat fast. I never had a night's rest in two years. After I finished my meals I would have fullness in the stomach.

"The least change in the weather would cause me to contract cold. My head would stop up and I would have heavy dull feelings over my eyes. Mucus dripped from my head into my throat and I was constantly spitting, but since using the third bottle of World's Tonic this has entirely gone and my hearing has greatly improved also.

"I can now eat things that I could not for a long time and what I eat is doing me good as I am gaining in flesh every day. My sleep is restful and I am not nearly so nervous. Every one speaks of how well I am looking and I give all the praise to World's Tonic. It certainly has acted like magic in my case and I am very grateful for the good it has done."

23 YEARS OF DIVIDENDS ON P.-O. SYSTEM PROPERTY

Nine Thousand Guests Since The Castleton Was Opened Here In October

Over 8,000 Rooms Have Been Occupied During Period Hotel Has Been Open

Some 43,000 Meals Have Been Served During Same Time; Hotel Going Fine

A report of the number of guests who have used The Castleton since it opened October 24, 1927, is made available this morning by John L. Slack, manager of the hotel.

"Until the first of April," states Mr. Slack, "there have been 9,588 persons served in the dining room of the hotel. In the coffee shop, there have been 25,781 persons served, while in the ball room we have served 7,466 persons at banquets. This makes a total of 42,835 meals served in the hotel." And I am rather proud of of the 7,466 meals served at banquets, for each of those were served in the ball room. Small dinners are counted in on the main dining room list.

"In the hotel during the time it has been opened, 8,929 persons have used the rooms, and 8,023 rooms have been used. During the month of March, the percentage of occupancy of the hotel was 41.7.

"A great deal of this represents business which would have gone to the surrounding cities if it had not been for The Castleton. To me, it seems that the hotel has fulfilled the hopes of the public spirited citizens who were instrumental in bringing it here; it has become the social center of the city. And only the loyal support of all of the people in the county has made this a possibility.

"Again, I might say that fully 95 per cent of all the revenues received at the hotel are spent here in New Castle. And a large percentage of the revenues is money that if it were not for The Castleton would have been spent in other cities. It represents money coming into the city without a corresponding value leaving.

"The average price that each guest paid for his room is $2.82, which I believe is very reasonable. The average per room in the house is $3.07."

Scholars Compete For Prize Garden

Prize Offered Nature Study Class For Neatest Garden Plot

Children of the nature study class of the 6A grade in the Martin Gantz school are entering enthusiastically into a contest in which Miss Evelyn Spencer has offered a prize to the scholar that will make the best clean-up of their back yard and plant the neatest garden plot.

The contest will end the last week of May, and the prize will be awarded by the decision of the judges—Miss Spencer and Misses Sara Love and Mildred Cannon, practice teachers, in nature study. The judges will make visits at different unannounced times to the various garden plots. The judges also are aiding the scholars in advising what kind of seeds to plant and how they should be planted. Advice is being given for a preference of flower plots as it is not feasible to attempt to cultivate vegetables in most places. Some vegetables are also advised.

Much interest was shown after the announcement made last Friday and already reports have been made of ashes and rubbish being cleared away to make room for a garden.

In the nature study class, seeds have been planted in the school room window boxes. Already packages of sweet william, aster, forget-me-nots and zinnia have been planted.

Legion Of Honor To Attend Dinner

Members Will Attend Consistory Dinner Friday Night In Body

Much interest is being taken in the Dinner club banquet which is to be held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral next Friday evening. Quite a few members, their wives and families from out of town will be in attendance and it is expected that it will be attended by over 500 persons.

The committee in charge is making extensive arrangements for an extra good time on this occasion. There will be cards and the dinner will be followed by dancing, a feature orchestra having been secured for the occasion.

One of the features of the occasion will be that the Legion of Honor, recently organized by Consistory members will attend the affair in a body. The new caps for the members have arrived and were given out at a meeting of the Legion held at the Cathedral last night. The members, their wives or ladies will meet in the East Lodge room Friday night and will go to the banquet hall in a body, the members wearing their new hats. Special paper caps have been secured for the ladies.

The Legion of Honor is securing new members each meeting. Last night over fifty petitions were received and it is expected that within a very short time the new organization will have at least 200 members.

Commander in Chief Dunlap is much pleased with the outlook for the organization. At the next reunion of the Consistory the Legion members will have charge of the dance to be held in the ball room the last night of the reunion. An excellent orchestra will be secured for the occasion and the Legion members will do every thing in their power to make the dance the last night of the reunion one long to be remembered.

Hon. T. W. Dickey is chairman of the dinner for Friday evening. He has worked untiringly to make it a big success and if effort will make it a pleasing event then it promises to be one of the most enjoyable social affairs held at the Cathedral for some time.

New Testimony Favors Sinclair In Teapot Trial

Witness Says That Navy Prior To Sinclair Lease Was Thinking Of Pulling Out

DRAINAGE CAUSED LEASE TO BE SOLD

Despite Ruling By Justice Bailey, Testimony Is Placed In Court Records

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 17.—At least two months before Harry F. Sinclair first approached former secretary of the interior Albert B. Fall relative to acquiring Teapot Dome, officials of the navy and interior departments were discussing the necessity for leasing the oil reserve because of drainage into an adjoining field, it was testified today in the criminal conspiracy trial of the oil man.

This testimony went into the record despite Justice Bailey's ruling that drainage of Teapot Dome could not properly be made a part of Sinclair's defense.

The defense is banking heavily on this testimony to convince the jury that the Teapot Dome lease was not bribing of Fall, but rather was turned over to Sinclair for operation solely to save a vast amount of oil belonging to the public domain.

Bain On Stand.

H. Foster Bain, former director of the bureau of mines, was on the stand under examination by George Hoover, Sinclair attorney.

Bain told of a conference in October, 1921, participated in by himself, Secretary Fall, Admiral J. K. Robison, Assistant Secretary of Interior Finney and A. W. Ambrose, a government geologist at which Bain and Ambrose reported on the feared drainage of Teapot Dome.

"It was a serious question," said Bain.

Canada Rejects Waterway Treaty

Great Lakes-St. Lawrence River Waterway Project Turned Down By Canada

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep waterway is again on the high shelf.

Canada has rejected the proposal of the United States for an immediate beginning on a treaty which would set dredges and concrete mixers to work.

Secretary of State Kellogg suggested immediate inauguration of treaty negotiations in April, a year ago. The voluminous correspondence since exchanged was made public today by agreement between the two governments.

It is understood here that nothing more can be done until after the next Canadian national elections, if then. These are not expected until 1930 or 1931 at the earliest.

Water power rights are the principal obstacle. Canada will not permit more power to be developed from wholly Canadian rights than can be absorbed by the Canadian market. She will not consider exporting her surplus to the United States.

"The results I got from Ten Herbs were nothing short of amazing," was the statement of Mrs. Margaret Moorehead Belka, 373 Atlanta Drive, Mt. Lebanon, Pa., (near Pittsburgh), to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily demonstrating this great natural medicine. "I now know the joys of living, after several years of misery," Mrs. Belka continued.

"My trouble began in my stomach. I ate only a few mouthfuls of food at a time, but even that amount caused a burning sensation from the pit of my stomach to my throat. Coming at a critical period of my life, the shock of losing one brother and two sisters within eight days worked havoc with my nervous system. I was almost a nervous wreck. I had rheumatism so badly that I could not use my hands or feet, and was confined to bed four weeks, helpless as a baby. I was unable to turn over without assistance. At times, I had terrible heart palpitation, and my complexion was sallow.

"Realizing that I was going from bad to worse, I decided to try Ten Herbs, and now I must tell the wonderful results, that followed. My nerves have become quiet, and I get a good night's rest. My bowels have become regular, and my stomach is so much better that I can eat anything that I relish without having gas, misery, or bloating. Rheumatism in my hands and feet is almost gone. My liver and kidneys are working fine. I do not have to arise at night like I used to, and heart palpitation is a thing of the past. The biliousness, dizzy spells and burning sensation in my throat have left me, and naturally my complexion has cleared. I can assure anyone that if they will give Ten Herbs a chance it will cleanse, purify and invigorate their entire system. Ten Herbs certainly did wonders for me, and I am glad to recommend it."

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington St., New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

Lake Cargo Coal Fight Is Carried To Supreme Court

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The lake cargo coal freight rate fight was carried to the supreme court today.

Northern field operators instituted an extraordinary proceeding in the court in an effort to halt railroads from putting into effect a rate reduction on lake cargo coal for the benefit of southern operators.

Radio Weather

Increasing use of radio for communication is having an appreciable effect on weather on land and sea, according to Captain W. H. Parker, of an ocean liner plying between New York and French and English ports. The captain blames radio for the violence of gales, high seas and freak weather conditions, saying that the electrical waves form a network of conflicting forces.

Few Mines Show Serious Effects From New Strike

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., April 17.—While the White Valley mine of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, near here, reported few workers on hand today, many operators asserted that the strike of the "save the union" committee was having little effect. Large numbers of workers were said to have returned to the mines following the Greek-Russian holiday yesterday.

Four men and one woman were arrested by state police on charges of disorderly conduct when they were alleged to have attempted to start a demonstration at the Kinlock mine of the Valley Coal Company, this morning.

There are three kinds of girls: those who know they are making a good impression, those who think they are and those who wonder if they are.

Did you ever poach eggs in milk instead of water? This is an excellent breakfast dish for the children as well as for the grownups. If this menu is used for a Sunday the chicken may either be cooked the day before and warmed up for dinner or it may be prepared and put in the oven to cook while the family is at church. In that case be sure there is enough moisture in the pan to last and that the heat is kept low.

(International News Service)

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., April 17.—Edward "Big Ed" Kilduff was again at large today with the lock of the Reynoldsville, Pa., jail in his pocket, after a short stay in that institution yesterday. Kilduff with four other prisoners escaped from the Clarion county jail Saturday after attacking the warden.

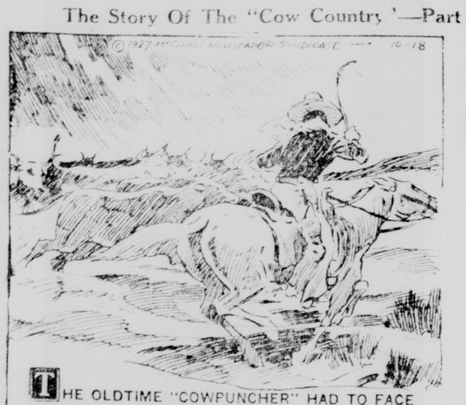

With two of the escaped prisoners Kilduff was seen walking along the highway near Reynoldsville and officers were notified. He was captured by Constable Milo Colman and Chief of Police Fye after a short struggle and locked in the Reynoldsville jail while the officers returned to search for Frank and John Benkowski who had escaped during the fight.

Unable to locate the prisoners Colman and Fye returned to the jail. Kilduff had disappeared and with him the lock which he had succeeded in twisting off. The search for him was continued today.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

The Story Of The "Cow Country"—Part VI

THE OLDTIME "COWPUNCHER" HAD TO FACE MANY PERILS AS PART OF HIS DAY'S WORK. THE CATTLE WERE EASILY THROWN INTO A PANIC, AND IF A SINGLE STEER FLED IN TERROR FROM AN UNUSUAL SOUND OR A SUDDEN FLASH OF LIGHTNING, THE WHOLE HERD WAS APT TO FOLLOW IN A MAD STAMPEDE.

WHEN THIS HAPPENED, THE COWBOYS RACED DESPERATELY TO TURN THE LEADING STEERS. IF THIS COULD NOT BE DONE, THE FRIGHTENED ANIMALS CONTINUED THEIR WILD CHARGE, BLINDLY TRAMPLING EVERYTHING THAT CAME IN THEIR PATH, UNTIL THEY WERE STOPPED BY EXHAUSTION.

MOST TO BE FEARED WERE THE BLIZZARDS THAT SWEPT THE PLAINS. DRIFTING BEFORE THE ICY, CUTTING WIND, THE CATTLE DUMBLY FLOUNDERED THROUGH THE DEEP SNOW. ONE BY ONE THE WEAKER ANIMALS, FROZEN AND FATIGUED, FELL IN THEIR TRACKS AND DIED.

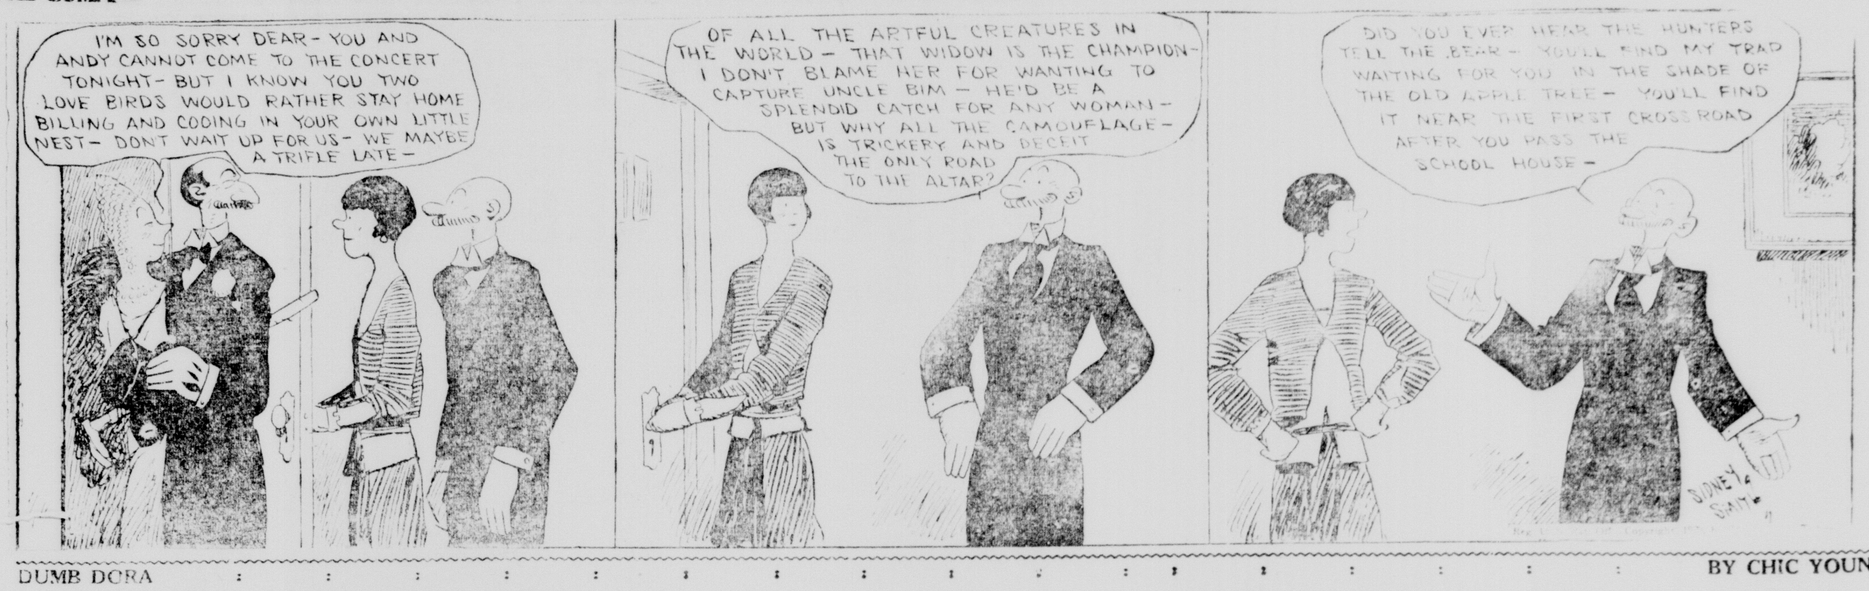

PRAIRIE FIRES, GRIZZLIES AND WOLVES WERE OTHER DANGERS THAT THE COWBOY OFTEN ENCOUNTERED. ADDED TO THESE WAS THE CONSTANT MENACE OF MARAUDING ATTACKS FROM THE HOSTILES ON "THE LONG DRIVE" THROUGH THE INDIAN COUNTRY.

American Golf Stars To Sail On Wednesday

Report Bobby Jones Not To Be With American Golfers In British Open

GENE SARAZEN IS ADDED TO LIST

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service.

NEW YORK April 17.—Although late indications were that Robert T. Jones, Jr., the Kid Himself, will turn up almost totally absent this time, a small but quite select group of golfers today were ready to rally around the promenade deck of the Aquitania for the anual fling at the British open golf championship. The Aquitania is scheduled to sail at midnight tomorrow for Southampton and the first class passenger list carries the entries of Gene Sarazen and Tommy Armour, American champions, past and present respectively; Bill Mehlhorn seldom out of money and Walter Hagen, holder of British and American titles several times over.

The impending departure of the last boat that can get under the wire for the British event leaves Jones very little leeway in which to repeat his evernight decision of last year. Robert must leave Atlanta no later than tonight in order to make the gang plank and the last word was that he had agreed to play in some Olympic fund matches next month and therefore couldn't be expected to be among those present for the midnight sailing.

Sarazen's inclusion in the party represents a change of plans so sudden that Gene is spending the day having all of his clubs reshafted in order to comply with British regulations which bar everything except hickory in the composition of shafts.

Diamond Notes

The Temple Israel baseball team will hold a meeting and practice session tonight at 6:15 o'clock at Colonial field. The practice has been called by Manager Mont Blau, former old-time star, who will manage the Temple boys this year. All players who wish to try out for the team are asked to report at the field tonight at the appointed hour.

The Colored Star Juniors are making plans for a fast team this year. The club will start to practice shortly and they expect to be in the running for the junior championship.

George Moriarty Proving Good Ball Boss

By JACK SORDS

George Moriarty, a man of varied talents and many accomplishments, is rapidly making himself quite a personage in American League seasons.

Since he took over the Detroit Tigers a year ago and whipped a first division club out of what had been a tottering sixth place outfit the big guns of the junior circuit have been regarding George as something else besides an ex-umpire.

Moriarty had a satisfactory career as a ball player in the American league and when his active days were over, donned the blue, grabbed an indicator and became one of Ban Johnson's choice ball-and-strike merchants.

Meanwhile, Moriarty felt the literary urge which afflicts many of our noble athletes and his pieces went far and wide. When Ty Cobb ceased to be a Tiger, Detroit picked George as his successor.

Moriarty went right to work and began an extensive campaign of revamping and shaping his new charges into a real squad. His efforts were reflected in the showing of the 1927 Bengal band.

While Detroit fans cheered themselves hoarse at the good showing of their club, Moriarty expressed disappointment and a desire to make a "real showing."

The Tigers have now undergone a few changes and some familiar forms have departed to other fields. Naturally, Moriarty is expecting a better Tiger team this year but he isn't making any predictions. That isn't his style.

Those who claim to be in the know on what's what behind the scenes at Navin Field in Detroit, say that George is banking much of his hopes on his pitchers and Harry Rice, stellar outfielder. Harry has received much personal attention from Moriarty in the art of running bases and in his day no other player had a finer knowledge of the business of base running than the Bengal boss.

Despite lack of real speed Moriarty was one of the most feared base runners of his time. He had the trick of starting at the split-second when the pitcher began his delivery and he could slide along with the best.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

"I am convinced that no ballplayer, however great he may be as a player, or however great may be his possibilities as a manager, can manage a major league ball club and play his position at the same time."

It's Sam Breadon, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, talking.

He offers, as first-hand examples, Rogers Hornsby and Bob O'Farrell, the two men who preceded Bill McKechnie, this year's pilot, as manager of the St. Louis entry in the National league race.

"Rogers Hornsby," says Breadon, "was recognized as the greatest batter in the National league, and one of the greatest the game has produced when I made him manager of Cardinals.

"He has a lifetime batting average close to .400.

"He is of the positive, self-willed type that should be able to throw off the mental strain that goes with directing the destinies of a big league club. Yet he wound up his only season as manager of the team with a batting average of .317. He was way off his usual form.

"Bob O'Farrell succeeded him—one of the greatest catchers in the game, and one of the main cogs in our championship ball club. O'Farrell's work as a catcher suffered mainly because of the strain of directing the play of the team.

"Selecting and developing the players, and molding them into a team and directing the play of that team on the field, is one man's task in itself. Playing any position on a major league ball club demands a man's best, mentally and physically.

"A manager cannot make the most of his opportunities if he has to concentrate his efforts at least part of the time on his own playing. A player cannot keep his mind on the play before him—or what the pitcher is tossing up to him if he has to worry about the make-up of his ball club in general, the strategy to be employed the following inning, or the exigencies of the moment brought on by his own pitcher's ineffectiveness or his team's inability to solve the opposing pitcher's delivery.

"You're asking one man to do two men's work at once."

"It just can't be done."

To back up his opinion further, Breadon offers the experiences of George Sisler, Ty Cobb, Dave Bancroft and others who stepped into the managerial ranks before their playing days were ended, and not only failed to set brilliant records as managers, but found their playing suffering as a result of the "doubling in brass."

Perelman Heads New Association

Will Foster Athletics For Betterment Of Jewish Manhood

J. Perleman was named president of an association organized last night for the fostering and bettering of all branches of athletic endeavor for the Jewish manhood of New Castle.

The association will sponsor the Temple Israel baseball club in the City Church league and M. Blau will be field manager and H. Davis will conduct the business of the club.

The meeting was called together last night and all of the persons voiced his opinion. Foremost among those who spoke were J. Perleman on the value of clean sportsmanship, Mont Blau on the purpose of the association and Gus Slovonsky told of methods and means of organizing. M. Feuchtwanger addressed the meeting on the foundation and moral need of an athletic association.

An election was held with the following being named for 1928: President, J. Perleman; vice president, Gus Slovonsky; secretary, Eph Solomon; treasurer R. Friedman; financial secretary H. Davids and trustees M. Blau, N. Love, Mike Fisher, E. Roman, M. Rabinovitz and A. Samuels.

The name of the association will be decided at a meeting of the trustees and officers to be held at the Temple of Israel Wednesday evening at which time a constitution will be drawn up.

More Candidates Report For Track

Coach Bridenbaugh Greeted By 127 Aspirants At Freezing Session Monday

Hopeful Class Track Meet May Produce Needed Material For Winning Team

Despite the nearly freezing weather of Monday afternoon, 127 young candidates for positions on the New Castle high track team, reported to Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh at Ben Franklin field for a workout.

The track squad is increasing rapidly, and it is likely that more than 150 will be out before the end of the season. It was not very warm yesterday circling the track in the scant array of the runner, but the boys went thru their paces without a mumble.

Among the new faces reporting Monday were Paul Reider and Bruce Alexander, both well known for their prowess on the basketball court and football field. Reider will likely be utilized in the sprints, with the big Alexander doing honors in the field events and possibly the hurdles.

The track practice in reality looks more like football rehearsal with Reider, Sillman, Harper, Alexander, Ostrosky, Craft, Howley, Shultz and Johnson doing their stuff.

Coach Bridenbaugh is anxious to get the inter-class track and field meet out of the way and has tentatively set the date for Saturday, April 28. There is also a possibility that the meet will be staged on Thursday and Friday, April 26 and 27.

New Castle high will send a track team to the Carnegie Tech meet on Saturday, May 5, and also will send a team to the four-county meet at New Wilmington, Pa., later in May.

The coaches are hopeful that the inter-class meet may produce some heretofore overlooked star, as the prospects this year are mighty slim. William "Bill" Klee, former New Castle high and Geneva college track star, is assisting Bridenbaugh with the track team. Klee is a valuable man in the field events.

Athletics Show Miserable Form

Connie Mack's High Salaried Stars Fail To Win Ball Games For Veteran Manager

BUSTER GEHRIG CRASHES HOMER

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 17. — Connie Mack, who took the rubber band off his bank roll between seasons in a last desperate effort to win another American League pennant, today finds his Athletics in last place—the only team in either league which has failed to capture a game. The Yankees, bitter rivals of the Mackmen and regarded a week ago as a set-up for the A's in the opening series in view of their miserable training trip record, are leading the league as usual.

All Connie Mack knows today is that he didn't read in the papers—that the Yanks are the same old bunch of murderers and that the Athletics must start winning ball games pronto if they are going to get anywhere, if that far. Ty Cobb has been doing fairly well at bat with a mark of .333 but his fielding has been termed atrocious. Tris Speaker, Mack's other expensive luminary, is roaming the outfield with his usual brilliance but sports a batting average of only .071.

Yesterday Rube Walberg of the A's lost a 5 to 4 decision to Horace Lisenbee of the Senators. Goslin's homer and single caused plenty of damage.

Gehrig Hits Homer

Buster Gehrig smacked his second homer of the season as the Yanks smothered the Red Sox, 7 to 2. The Sox got only five hits of Pipgras.

Alphonse Thomas twirled the White Sox to their first victory of the season, blanking St. Louis 7 to 0 and hitting a home run which helped tumble the Brownies out of first place. Johnny Mostil broke into the Sox lineup and performed acceptably.

Cleveland shaded Detroit, 5 to 4, and jumped into a triple tie with St. Louis and Washington for second place. Strong-arm work by McManus on throws from third to first helped Cleveland score four runs.

With two men on base, old Cy Williams was carried to the plate for his pinch-hitting act and he clouted a home run which gave the Phillies a 7 to 5 win over the Giants. The New Yorkers still lead the senior circuit, however.

The St. Louis Cardinals were trounced by the Cubs, 6 to 3, but hung on to second place. Chicago put on a five-run rally in the fourth which ruined Jess Haines. Earl Webb got a homer.

Burleigh Grimes regained his pitching cunning and the Pirate sluggers got their eyes on the ball simultaneously, which resulted in an 8 to 1 landslide for Pittsburgh over Cincinnati.

Rogers Hornsby got three hits as the Boston Braves took a 3 to 2 decision over Jess Petty, Brooklyn southpaw. It was Boston's first victory of the season.

JOE McCARTHY

Joe McCarthy, in his second season as boss of the Chicago Cubs last year, nearly pulled a George Stalling's miracle stunt by making a championship outfit of an ordinary ball club in a season.

For a time the Cubs were riding so far ahead that they looked like sure shots to cop. But they cracked wide open in the heat of the campaign.

This year Joe has strengthened his team considerably for the season, and the Cubs are given a fine chance to take the National gonfalon by many guessers.

Court Battles

By Feg Murray

There are court battles—and court battles. Last week-end in Mexico City, the United States Davis Cup team eliminated their neighbors to the south from further participation in the 1928 race for the historic bowl by trouncing the Mexican team five matches to none in a very pleasant and colorful series of court battles.

On or about April 16, Mr. Jack Dempsey, who lost his title within a week of the day Bill Tilden lost his meets his former pal and manager, Jack Kearns in a court battle to decide whether or not the fighter owes the manager an enormous sum of money—something like $700,000 I believe.

Now Tilden in a logical skirmish would be no more out of place than Dempsey in a tennis court battle, but it so happens that law suits, attachments, writs and so forth are not new to Colorado Jack, while Philadelphia Bill as far as I know has never been served with a habeas corpus but only a tennis ball and racket. However if amateur tennis ever was dragged into the legal courts no such disclosures and scandals would be forthcoming as many people connected with the cauliflower industry seem to fear may come to light in connection with the Dempsey-Kearns court battle.

But to get back to more pleasant subjects. In the Mexico City court contests two things were brought out. One that Bill Tilden is a good captain and leader and not an autocratic czar as some people seemed to think, two, that in Joe Hennessey the United States has a player who will do a lot to take the place of Little Bill Johnston and who if he doesn't burn himself out too soon, may prove a thorn in the side of the Frenchmen in Paris next summer. Hennessey eliminated Cochet from the United States national championships last September—don't forget that in taking stock of our chances.

Feg Murray says.

"I'll never play this—— —— game again" yelled the infuriated golfer, as he threw away his broken clubs. "Me for pool."

"Why pool?" asked his friend.

"Because there are only six holes and plenty of balls to knock into them."

Sport Ritticisms

By BILL RITT

Connie Mack certainly must be slipping. The season is already under way and he hasn't yet signed up Rip Van Winkle.

A news report says that a great crowd attended the opening game at Brooklyn. And then, again, it may have only been Uncle Wilbert Robinson.

The papers say that Tex Rickard will put on six championship scraps this summer. But the biggest fight George L. will have will be to get the customers to see 'em.

Jake Levy, Giant rookie, turned out to be a better violin player. Unfortunately, the only music John McGraw cares about is the band playing at the opening of the world series.

A movie couple announces they have been happily married for 10 years. Just another publicity stunt?

The spacious halls of the Lincoln school buzzed last evening with thousands of school students in their best bib and tucker, and the class in Domestic Science, made something for the visitors that certainly had an appetising odor. The classes started at 7 o'clock and concluded at 8:30. The total number of visitors at all schools was 2,623.

Miss Hamilton Gives Recital

Miss Eleberta Kagy, Of Westminster Faculty Assists In Program

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 17.—Miss Margaret Hamilton, nationally recognized pianist, gave a delightful recital in the New Wilmington Community House last night which was attended by a large gathering of students and professors. Miss Elberta Kagy, professor of violin and orchestration in the conservatory, assisted Miss Hamilton on the violin, while Miss Jessie Mockel, dean of the conservatory, was accompanist for Miss Kagy.

The program consisted of classical music, which was executed with skill and artistry. Miss Hamilton played nine numbers, ranging from "Variations Serieuses", by Mendelssohn, to "Sonata in F Sharp Minor", by Schuman and "Nalla Waltz", by Delibes-Dohnanyi.

Miss Kagy was at her best in "La Clochette", by Paganini, but was called back for encores because of the excellent playing in all four of her numbers.

Following the recital the students who are majoring in music held a formal reception in the conservatory for Miss Hamilton, the visiting artist. Professor Alan B. Davis, director of the conservatory, helped with the arrangements for the reception. Members of the college and conservatory faculty, townspeople and all students studying music in college were present to honor Miss Hamilton.

Teeth Breakage Not Compensable

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 17. — Breakage to false teeth is not a compensable injury, the Workmen's Compensation Board held today. The board upheld the compensation referee in an appeal brought by Charles Wilson, of Pleasant Unity, against the Jamison Coal and Coke Company, Greensburg.

Wilson alleged that his false teeth were broken while feeding his employer's horses. The referee dismissed the claim and Wilson appealed to the compensation board for a review.

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELEN E. RUBINSTEIN
Noted Beauty Expert

EVOLUTION OF THE BOB.

Whether it is expressive of the new femininity or merely another caprice of Milady Fashion is a matter still to be determined—but certainly no up-to-the-minute woman will deny the new trend of hair dress a trend toward curls and lustre softness and charm.

The style in hair cuts changed over night without even so much as a courteous warning, so that sheared tresses might first be coaxed into the extra four inches which would elevate the coiffure to "le dernier cri!"

If you are fortunate in having a very rapid hair growth you will find little to worry about in the new demand of style.

If however you are like the average woman who struggles fruitlessly with short ends all through the painful evolution" process, all the little style hints which I shall give here will help you tremendously in achieving the effect of a shoulder bob even though the bob itself has hardly grown to the correct proportions .

First let me warn you that while shingles and sleek boyish bobs have virtually passed into history you must bear in mind the importance of fitting the style to your individuality instead of forcing your individuality to fit the style. I need not assure you that if the boyish bob is "made" for your particular type don't for one moment think you must rush madly into changing your hair dress.

However to return to the shoulder or the half-way bob" as smart beauticians call it, the simplest way to simulate it is by advising your barber to leave the sides of your hair severely alone. And here let me warn you. Don't make the mistake of neglecting the regular hair trim especially at the nape of your neck. Your head must be neat and trim, every moment of the growing out period—although I'm quite frank in admitting that that's a thing far more easily said than done.

The hair can be carefully, neatly trimmed and the neck kept free from the little bristly hairs which are anything but attractive. But ask your barber not to touch the upper layer of back hair. Keep away from the points on your neck and realize that a hair cut now is merely for the purpose of keeping your hair line tidy while you cultivate new growth. The sides will grow much more rapidly, because, for one reason almost every bob the last few years has called for longer side pieces, even with a close cropped back .An excellent way to stimulate the growth of the hair is by pulling at the roots with short hard jerks.

School Girl Writes Of Pottery Visit

Miss Florence Mitchell Tells Of Tour Of Pottery By Class Members

Florence Mitchell, a member of the senior class of the Senior high school and a student of the cost accounting class at the school, has written a short article of the class' recent trip to the Shenango Pottery.

Her story follows:

The cost accounting class under the supervision of Mr. Book, has been studying for the past few months, the different methods of cost accounting and where and how it is used.

The class made a trip recently to the Shenango Pottery to learn more about the methods and how they are put to use in this large company.

Upon arriving there we were first taken to their large and exquisite display room, where we were shown the different styles of dishware that is being made there.

Each step in the process of the making of the product was carefully explained by Mr. Diefenderfer, head of the cost accounting department. We were told about each step of the making of the product, from the purchasing of the raw materials until it is converted into a finished product. Mr. Diefenderfer, explained fully the entries made in the different books of the cost accounting sets.

About 40 students went and all of them enjoyed the trip and I am sure it was a benefit to everyone. Those who were unable to go certainly missed a wonderful opportunity. The class as a whole wish to express their appreciation to Mr. Diefenderfer, for his well rendered service.

RELIABLE USED CARS

How old is that used car ?

USED CAR LIST HERE

It's pretty hard to tell the age of a used car at a glance! The difference in appearance between one year's model and the next may be very slight. Yet a year makes a lot of difference in a used car's price.

People sometimes think they are getting a 1926 car—and pay a 1926 price—for what is really a 1925 model. They may never know the difference until they're ready to dispose of it.

That's one reason why it pays to go to the Buick dealer when you buy a used car—you know you can rely on what he tells you.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 17.—The standard and independent oil stocks continued their moderate upward swing in early trading today, while the industrial and motor stocks moved downward. Steel stocks made an indifferent response to the more favorable trade situation, and most of the motor stocks lost ground. Market leaders in the specialties were also under selling pressure and their advance halted. Strength in the Pan American oils was due in part to the favorable earning report of Lago Petroleum, owned and controlled by this company.

National Power and Light continued to feature the low-priced utilities, reaching a new high at 32½, up about 10 points on the movement.

The call loan rate swung back to 5 per cent, compared with yesterday's final 4½ per cent rate.

Selling pressure on the industrial stocks was redoubled in the second hour, General Electric losing about 4 points on the move. General Motors was down 2½ and Chrysler and Hudson down a point each.

Crude rubber broke to a new low under 17 cents a pound in that market. Cotton and grain were steady.

Mine Workers Board To Meet In Washington

International Board Of Mine Workers To Discuss Save-The-Union Strike

LEWIS REFUSES TO DIVULGE HIS PLANS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The international board of the United Mine Workers will meet here tonight to discuss the activities and the strike called in the non-union fields by the "save-the-union committee."

Mine worker officials charged that the committee met in Pittsburgh on April 1, the first anniversary of the union strike, and called upon open shop workers in four counties in Pennsylvania to lay down their tools on April 16. The counties affected are Westmoreland, Fayette, Somerset and Greene.

Reports to union headquarters here indicated that the strike call did not result in a heavy response. The committee had hoped to bring out 100,000 non-union workers as a protest against the strike policies of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers.

The committee's aim is a nation-wide strike in all soft coal fields. Opposing this policy, the union has permitted operators who sign the Jacksonville wage scale to continue operations under temporary arrangements.

Lewis said today the board meeting was summoned primarily to deal with the situation caused by the "save-the-union" action, but he declined to discuss the question prior to tonight's meeting. The board is charged with the duties of shaping the union's policies.

ETTA KETT — 1400 MAIL STUDENTS — BY PAUL ROBINSON

State Health Department Head Urges Examinations

"There is no more pitiable commentary on the illogic of man than his personal indifference to his own health," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, the Secretary of Health, today. "In the majority of things effecting him, more or less intelligence will frequently be displayed. But upon the question of physical fitness he is more likely to be careless than otherwise.

By reason of the concerted action of health departments, health centres, welfare agencies and allied associations, much has been accomplished in the field of child welfare—and rightly so. But to what profit is all this magnificent work, if after scientific care during babyhood, early life and youth, the man or woman steps out into the world physically and mentally equipped to conquer, and by actions entirely within their control, put themselves out of the running at middle age when their value to themselves, their dependents and the world is just reaching its maximum? Yet this is exactly what is happening each day.

"Cancer, the manifestations of which are disregarded; tuberculosis, with its more pronounced symptoms snubbed, and heart disease, the slinking enemy in the dark unconsidered are gaining a woeful efficiency as slayers of those who should continue to live. And the weapon it so devastatingly uses is carelessness.

"One can not repeat too often or too emphatically the necessity of periodical physical examinations. It is frequently the only way that some of the major killers can be discovered soon enough to make them amenable to medical science. The man or woman, therefore, who does not pay a once-a-year visit to the doctor for a careful, thorough and comprehensive review is taking unnecessary chances with life.

"True as this is, one must do more than 'take an examination' once a year. Life, after all, is a game. And to win one must play according to the rules. That is where so many grownups fall down. They will be over-solicitous about their children's welfare. Even dogs and gold fish will receive proper attention. But they themselves—'eat, drink and be merry' is their law!

"Sleep, food, fresh air, rest, recreation, hygiene all demand proper daily attention. What thought are you giving to them? How seriously are you interested in the art of living happily and healthily for the longest possible time? Your answer to these questions, coupled with your use or disregard of the annual physical examination may have much to do with your stay upon this earth. Think it over."

BOY SCOUT Activities

TROOP 1

Rotary troop 1 held its weekly meeting at the Ben Franklin school under the direction of Scoutmaster LeRoi Norton and the troop committeemen, Charles T. Metzler and Thomas Gilkey. Much work was accomplished at this meeting and many plans were made.

All are to meet at the Ben Franklin school at five o'clock. Each one is asked to bring a safety kit, food, blankets, an axe, a knife and a pencil and note book. At six o'clock the boys will cook their own suppers, after which there will be a camp fire. At six o'clock the next morning it is planned to cook breakfast and return.

Scoutmaster Norton also wishes to try a new system of patrol yells.

Mack Leslie, Frank Kurdupski and Jack Gardner passed their tenderfoot tests and now are full fledged members of the troop.

The meeting was closed by Wesley Mann sounding taps, after which the boys had a swim in the pool.

Don't Neglect Your Kidneys!

You Can't Be Well When Kidneys Act Sluggishly.

DO you find yourself running down—always tired, nervous and depressed? Are you stiff and achy, subject to nagging backache, drowsy headaches and dizzy spells? Are kidney excretions scanty, too frequent or burning in passage? Too often this indicates sluggish kidneys and shouldn't be neglected

Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, increase the secretion of the kidneys and thus aid in the elimination of waste impurities. Doan's are endorsed everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

50,000 Users Endorse Doan's:

Fred W. Christie, 3032 D St., Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I found Doan's Pills very satisfactory. I often felt stiff, lame and achy, especially in my back, and stooping was rather difficult. My kidneys didn't seem to act properly. When I saw Doan's Pills advertised I began taking them and in a short time I was in good shape again. I would certainly use Doan's again if I needed them."
